Lodge Resigns In Saigon, Will Work For Scranton

Gen. Taylor Will Take Viet Position

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson today accepted the resignation of Henry Cabot Lodge as U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, possibly clearing the way for Lodge to play an active role in the fight over the Republican presidential nomination.

To fill the critical post, Johnson said he was appointing Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff, will succeed Taylor.

At an impromptu news conference, Johnson, said he expected to have a face-to-face meeting with Lodge by the end of the week to bring himself up to date on the critical situation in southeast Asia.

ENDS SPECULATION

The announcement of Lodge's resignation, dated June 19, ended weeks of speculation. Lodge said he was quitting his job because of personal reasons. There had been earlier reports, all officially denied, that he was quitting for reasons of "health."

In any case, the timing of his request meant that Lodge will be on hand for the final days of the GOP fight over a presidential candidate to oppose President Johnson in November.

Lodge himself was considered a front-running candidate in the early days of the battle for delegates. He made a surprisingly strong showing in the New Hampshire primary, beating out both Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

FALTERS IN OREGON

But he faltered in the Oregon primary and was not on the ballot in California. The ambassador's supporters subsequently swung to Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton. Scranton forces now hope Lodge will join actively in a stop-Goldwater drive.

Some quarters do not rule Lodge out as a nominee himself, however, if the convention should become deadlocked.

In Saigon, Lodge said he would take up the political cudgel against Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Associated Press reported.

(Lodge said in a prepared statement that he was quitting to give all the help he could to Scranton's eleventh hour bid to stop the nomination of Goldwater by the Republican National Convention.)

SPEAK FOR SELF

When Johnson was asked whether he thought Lodge might be coming home for "political" reasons, he replied:

"I think the ambassador will be here shortly and he could better speak for himself. The only information I have is what he said in his letter. I have heard rumors but I am totally uninformed on them."

A reporter then asked whether the president thought Lodge "is coming home to run against you, by any chance?"

"I am unable to go any further than he went in his letter," Johnson said. "That is all he told me."

The president made these other points:

1. There will be no change in

TIBURON IS A CITY TONIGHT

Elected Council To Be Sworn In, Choose A Mayor

By ELLEN BRY

Tiburon becomes a city tonight with a newly elected council, no money, no city hall, but lots of plans.

Beginning at 8 p.m. at the Del Mar School, councilmen-elect will be sworn into office and choose a mayor from among themselves. They probably will appoint a city clerk to man the telephone from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays at the temporary city office in Room 1 of the school.

Councilmen will discuss borrowing from the county to get the new city started, and will look over planning and zoning, sheriff's, building inspection, road maintenance, street sweeping and engineering ordinances or contracts with the county which will give the city varying amounts of autonomy.

ROCKY ROAD

Tiburon may have a relatively rocky financial road immediately ahead. Councilmen already have hired an advisory administrator at $12.50 an hour and hope to hire a clerk. Peter Allen of Kentfield has agreed to serve as city attorney at a base salary of $300 monthly.

There will be little in the way of city funds to pay salaries until councilmen get a loan from Marin County or a bank. Property tax payments will not come to the city until almost 18 months from now, Warren Schmid, the interim city administrator explained, though other state rebates and subvensions will come in before then.

MUST BORROW

Under state law, the county is obligated to provide services to Tiburon only until July 1. So the new city must borrow to pay contracts for necessary services by the county until local officers take over.

The new city will get a break in rebates of state gasoline taxes, allocated to cities in proportion to population. A newly incorporated city by state law is figured to have three times the number of registered voters for purposes of tax rebates. In the case of Tiburon, with a relatively high number of registered voters, the city

U.S. Policy On War Risk Seems Clear

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Communists now have the word of President Lyndon B. Johnson himself that the United States is willing to risk war with Red China to defend Southeast Asia.

The president's tough words came in the midst of his announcement of the resignation of Henry Cabot Lodge, who had served as ambassador to South Vietnam since last August, and his replacement by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

"We think the message has gotten through to them (the Communists)," Johnson said at today's impromptu news conference.

"I think I would say we believe they are aware of our attitude and they have no doubt about our policy or position."

The president's announcement followed a weekend in which several high ranking U.S. spokesmen

Cycle Appraisal End Is In Sight

No Immediate Action, Broemmel Cautions

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel yesterday won authorization from the board of supervisors to hire four more property appraisers to enable him to get rid of the much-criticized "cycle reappraisal" program.

Broemmel said the four additional men would enable him to train sufficient staff so those properties where there is much activity boosting real estate values could be checked annually, getting rid of the once-every-four-years boosts under the cycle system.

It won't happen overnight, though, he warned: training staff takes time.

TOOLS FOR JOB

"Where the assessor asks for the tools to do a job," said County Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "he should get them. This function of government is so basic to fair play we have an obligation to buy him the tools."

The "tools" will add another cent to the county tax rate, said Auditor Michael Mitchell. Four more salaries in the assessor's department pushed the projected rate to $2.364 per $100 assessed valuation. This year's rate was $2.255

Broemmel said he is not now using strictly the cyclical system in reappraisals. However, he said, he has too few men qualified to appraise all types of real property. The few he has must concentrate on one part of the county at a time. With four more, he can spread this to prevent such sudden raises as brought outraged complaints from Sausalito property owners this year, he suggested.

OLDER CITIZENS

He added that some sharp increases in property values must be expected anyhow. "A minority of older citizens in the county are up against an economic change," he said.

The problem of cyclical reappraisals, said Behr, "is that it comes as a blow to people on fixed incomes. They can't budget for it."

With additional staff he said, "there will have been forewarnings in a series of increases, instead of in one fell swoop. It won't be every four years."

Broemmel said his problem is complicated by the fact that banks and saving and loan institutions hire away his appraisers after the county has trained them. He said private employers can afford to pay more than the county.

He also complained that many county appraisers say they cannot take the abuse they receive from property owners when they go into the field to appraise land. He said private appraisers are welcomed by property owners who then want a high appraisal of their property.

Yes, It's Hot Enough To Fry Eggs On Rocks

Two Greenbrae boys fried an egg on a rock yesterday. It was that kind of day.

It was that kind of a day again today, too, as the mercury bubbled to 87 atop the Independent-Journal Building in San Rafael by noon—three degrees higher than at noon yesterday.

Cool breezes, promised by the Weather Bureau yesterday, visited briefly this morning, then went away.

HIGH OF 97

Yesterday's high of 97 degrees in San Rafael was the topper for this year so far. It wasn't the highest in the county, though: Novato recorded 99 degrees at the main fire station.

Coolest spot reporting was Bolinas, where the mercury hit only 78. The beaches were loaded, yesterday and again today.

"Mama and the kids are here. The dads are sweating it out at work," reported Robert G. Carlson, superintendent at Stinson Beach State Park.

The boys who fried the egg on a rock are Rick Streiff, 9, and Brian Kreps, 10, both of whom live on Via Barranca in Greenbrae. The rock they used is in a vacant lot near their homes.

PRESSURE AREA

The Weather Bureau had an explanation—of sorts—for the heat. Forecaster R. V. Wilgus at San Francisco Airport said:

"The morning weather map shows high pressure over much of the Far West and lower pressure near the coast. This condition favors an offshore flow and allows temperatures to rise above normal values even near the coast."

In other words, it'll be hot again tomorrow.

Some high temperatures around Marin yesterday were: Santa Venetia, 96; Woodacre, 95; Fairfax, Larkspur, Ross and In-

Stanford Report Suggests Industry For In-Commuters

Marin County should be on the lookout for an industry which will employ people who commute into the county, to offset the effect of those who commute out, the Stanford Research Institute suggested today in a preliminary 100-page report on the county's economy.

The county board of supervisors received the report and called for a night meeting to discuss it on July 29.

Board members asked questions about whether more space in the report could have been devoted to recreation, the convention "industry," and research and development firms.

The report covers the first phase of a proposed two-part study on the county tax base. Phase two would consider the question of how to go about drawing the industries suggested by the study.

Stanford Research Institute has been paid $20,000. The supervisors today held up authorization for paying the final $5,400 pending decision on whether to accept the report.

Chairman William A. Gnoss repeatedly asked for enlightenment on how many of the numerous possible industries suggested in the report could be attracted to the county.

In addition to in-commuters, other helpful industries would be those which would employ housewives, or industries which would employ men already living in the county but now commuting to San Francisco, but which would not attract more people to live in the county, the report suggested.

Other desirable industries to look for would be those with a high amount of investment per employee, or with a high taxable sales on items to be sent out of the county.

The report said recreation and hotels presented a major possibility for economic gains, especially in West Marin.

It went on to say that the major boom in space and electronics industries is over, and they can not be expected to locate major plants in Marin, although some fields, such as computers and business machines, offered possibilities.

On residential development, the report stated that apartment houses may produce fewer children than do single family residences but they also produce less taxes, so much less that they do not pay for themselves when compared to single-family homes.

Commuters now living in the county actually pay more than their share of taxes, the report continued.

Board Fears Elderly Housing In Jeopardy With Initiative

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today asked for a legal opinion quickly from the federal government on whether the anti-Rumford fair housing initative could jeopardize federal funds for local projects for housing the elderly.

The question arose while the board was talking about passage of a resolution declaring the intent to hold a referendum on public low cost housing for the elderly in November.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker asked what effect the initiative, Proposition 14, could have on such a project.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said he was not sure, but that Dr. Robert C. Weaver, regional director of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, has gone on record that the proposed change would conflect with federal law.

Maloney said such a conflict with federal regulations might override even provisions of the state constitution.

"It does cast a cloud over any local project," agreed Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who then asked a legal opinion from a higher source. He at first gained approval to request the governor to seek an opinion from U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

But Maloney came in later and reported the proper protocol would be to ask an opinion from the general counsel of the HHFA, who could then, perhaps, refer the question to Kennedy. The board quickly agreed.

"We want this as soon as possible," he said.

The board agreed unanimously.

Leydecker Denies Flatly Any Link To Draper Companies

County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker today denied flatly any relation with the Draper Companies, Marin County developers who paid part of the cost of a Stanford Research Institute study of county industrial possibilities, and said he was considering a libel suit.

Leydecker made the statement as the supervisors heard a preliminary report on Stanford Research Institute's study.

He said he does not own any stock in the company and that his only possible relationship is that a "third echelon employee of the Draper Companies as a member of the board of my bank" (Redwood National Bank).

Of the total cost of $25,400 for the survey, the county will pay $7,400 and private interests, $18,000.

"All of us have suffered and survived at the hands of the Independent-Journal," declared Leydecker. He said he was considering a libel suit.

Leydecker apparently referred to a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal on the fact the supervisors were to receive the institute report today. The story mentioned that a charge of possible conflict of interest in connection with the study had been made during the primary election campaign by Leydecker's opponent, John F. McInnis.

The charge was made during a radio appearance of the candidates. McInnis claimed the Draper Companies were prepared to pay for the institute study, and the county had agreed to pay part of the cost at Leydecker's suggestion. He said an official of the Draper Companies was a friend of Leydecker's and a director of his bank, and asserted this "comes very close to conflict of interest."

Leydecker subsequently denied the charge, declared McInnis was completely wrong, and challenged him to produce evidence. The challenge was not taken up.

CHURCH STUDYING BIRTH CONTROL

Pope Says Problem Extremely Serious, But Sees No Policy Change At Present

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said today the Roman Catholic Church is actively studying the "extremely serious problem" of birth control.

But he said so far he finds no grounds for changing church policy, which includes a total ban on artificial contraceptives.

In one of the major speeches of his year-old pontificate, the pope spoke before 26 cardinals on the eve of his name day, the feast of St. John the Baptist. He covered subjects ranging from Christian unity to world peace.

The discussion of birth control came at a time when the subject is the topic of lively debate within the Catholic Church, especially over the use of newly-developed contraceptive pills.

The pope, in the first statement he has made on the subject, said the question of birth control "is being considered as amply and deeply as possible . . . and we hope soon to conclude these studies with the collaboration of many distinguished scholars."

"But, meanwhile," he warned, "we frankly say that so far we have no sufficient motive to consider surpassed, and therefore not compulsory, the rules given out by Pope Pius XII in this regard."

The pope said that when current studies are completed, "we will therefore soon put forth the conclusions in the forms which will be considered more adequate on the subject dealt with and to the target to be achieved."

Thus, he said, the teachings laid down by the late Pope Pius XII that no artificial contraceptives may be used "must be considered valid, at least until that time when we conscientiously will feel obliged to change them."

"In a subject of such gravity, it appears good that Catholics should follow a single law, such as the church of authority proposes, and it seems therefore opportune to recommend that nobody for the time being take upon himself to pronounce himself in terms that are different from the existing rule."

The Catholic Church's attitude on birth control, as laid down by Pius XII (1939-1958), is that no artificial form of contraceptive is permissible. Only in the case of danger to the mother is even the so-called Ogino-Knaus "rhythm system" permitted.

CPAs Told To Change Image

MONTEREY (UPI) — California's Certified Public Accountants were advised yesterday to "break out of the traditional mold and create a more modern image."

The advice came from John L. Lawler of the American Institute of Certified Public Accounts at a meeting of the State Certified Public Accountants Society.

Lawler noted that a survey conducted by Elmo Roper found that businessmen consider their CPA "the outside consultant they most enjoy working with."

But, Lawler added, the survey found businessmen wanted their CPAS to "broaden the scope of their services." This can be done through a "do-it-yourself project" to change their image, he said.

Duke Of Windsor Marks 70th Birthday

PARIS (AP)—The Duke of Windsor ushered in his 70th birthday today with a small dinner party at Maxim's that lasted until after midnight.

His supporters in Britain used the anniversary to call again on the royal family to forget the past and officially recognize the duke's American wife.

Marking his birthday quietly, the duke slept late and spent most of the day at his desk.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), who faces 10 to 12 days of immobility in an orthopedic bed to permit his broken back to heal, is keeping up with the news of the world outside his hospital room.

The late president's brother, at 32 the youngest member of the U.S. Senate, is reported to be making continued progress in overcoming the serious injuries he suffered last Friday night in an airplane crash at nearby Southampton.

Doctors said the senator asked for newspapers yesterday and spent some time listening to radio broadcasts, mostly music.

Funeral services were scheduled today for the two men who died when the twin-engine private plane crashed, the pilot, Edwin T. Zimny, 48, and Edward S. Moss, 41, Kennedy administrative aide.

Berlin Flights Continue Despite Protest

BERLIN (AP) — Pan American World Airways continued its flights to West Berlin today despite a Soviet protest that they were illegal and a Red warning that their safety could not be guaranteed.

A Pan American jetliner left New York's Kennedy Airport last night with 10 of its 77 passengers bound for the Communist-surrounded city. None of those interviewed voiced concern over the Soviet warning that the plane's safety could not be ensured in the air corridors which Western planes use in crossing East Germany.

A Soviet note to the United States and Britain claimed the recently inaugurated flights were illegal because they had not been approved by the Communist East German regime.

Midwest Reels Under Summer Rains, Floods

CHICAGO (UPI)—Summer squall lines snaked across the Midwest today, dumping up to three inches of rain from Oklahoma to Wisconsin and keeping the pressure on runaway Missouri rivers. Ten inches of fresh snow piled up in Wyoming mountains.

Hail-packing thunderstorms and high winds toppled trees and pulled down power lines during the night.

La Crosse, Wis., was drenched with 2.83 inches of rain in six hours.

LOWLAND FLOODS

The Platte and Little Platte rivers continued to flood lowland areas in two Missouri counties today. More than six inches of rain upstream from Smithville, Mo., sent floodwaters coursing through the downtown district and forced some residents from their homes. From six to eight feet of water stood in some Smithville streets last night.

The Platte edged upward at eight inches an hour at Tracy, Mo., where the river blocked Missouri 92.

Driving rain flooded 120 blocks of St. Joseph, Mo., last night and sent six feet of water streaming through the streets of tiny Agency, Mo.

A thunderstorm packing high winds, hail and lightning swept through the Chicago area, flooding viaducts, toppling trees and ripping down power lines. Winds raced to 60 miles an hour and darkness cloaked the city's suburbs before sunset.

"They should be made to work from dawn to dusk and they should be punished more," said Izvestia.

Ford, Union Appear Set For Battle

DETROIT (AP) — Hard bargaining between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers in their impending new contract talks appeared likely today in the wake of clashing preliminary stands by both sides.

The union charged that Henry Ford II could not understand the worker's position. This was the UAW's reaction to Ford's speech yesterday in Coronado, Calif., in which he said willingness to accept a strike was a part of "free and responsible collective bargaining."

Ford, board chairman of the firm, said that union demands could endanger the national economy.

"From his lofty position, it is understandable Mr. Ford can't make out the American scene below of workers producing more than ever yet being shorted in their share of the prosperity they are creating," said Ken Bannon, director of the union's Ford department.

The UAW issued Bannon's statement late in the day, presumably after the union had taken time to study the automaker's remarks.

Negotiations between Ford and the UAW formally open July 1, simultaneously with General Motors and Chrysler new contract talks. The present three-year contracts between the union and the Big Three automakers all expire Aug. 31.

Cyprus Peace Efforts Are Feared Snarled

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — The secret return to Cyprus of legendary guerrilla leader Gen. George Grivas created the danger today of sharp Turkish reaction that could snarl peace efforts led by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Acting vice president Glafkos Clerides confirmed last night that Grivas had come to the island last Friday from his exile in Greece and has conferred with President Makarios and other Greek cypriot leaders.

Clerides denied, however, that Makarios offered Grivas the command of the Greek cypriot national guard forces which have been fighting Turkish cypriots.

Grivas, 65, led the Eoka guerrilla forces in the five-year underground battle that led to Cyprus' independence from Britain in 1960. That struggle made Grivas a hero both on Cyprus and in Greece.

Clerides said Grivas returned to Cyprus "in an advisory capacity on military questions affecting the Greek cypriot security forces." He said he did not know how long the former Eoka leader would remain.

Diplomatic observers said Grivas' presence on the island likely would anger Turkey and the Turkish cypriots at a time when President Johnson is trying to bring Turkey and Greece to some understanding on the Cyprus question. The two NATO partners are deeply involved on opposite sides.

Johnson was holding his second day of talks in Washington with Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu. Tomorrow he is scheduled to meet with Greek Premier George Papandreou.

Plot To Kidnap Nikita Smashed

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Swedish police have smashed a plot to kidnap Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and hold him hostage for the release of political prisoners behind the Iron Curtain.

Police confirmed that at least one man, described only as a 30-year-old foreigner, was arrested yesterday near Haga Castle, where the Soviet leader is staying during his five-day state visit.

The man reportedly confessed that he and several other men had planned to smash their way through the castle gates in a truck.

The newspaper Aftonbladet, which has close connections with the Swedish government, said the man in custody was a Hungarian. Police declined to confirm this.

There also was speculation that the plot was hatched by members of the Ustashi, a fanatic Croatian anti-Communist organization which fought for the Nazis during World War II.

The Ustashi reportedly has a strong membership in Sweden, which is haven for about 30,000 refugees from Communist countries.

Two weeks before Khrushchev's arrival in Sweden, the newspaper Expressen said the Ustashi had threatened openly to kill the Soviet leader.

"Khrushchev will die in Sweden," Expressen quoted a Ustashi leader as saying.

County police Supt. Aake Magnusson signed the charge sheet against the arrested man.

Magnussen described a report by a Stockholm newspaper that the plotters were armed with submachine guns as a "dreamed up story."

In the wake of the arrests, the 5,000 policemen in Stockholm for Khrushchev's visit were reinforced by two special commando units.

At Haga Castle, only one gate was kept open and it was protected by scores of uniformed police and plainclothes detectives.

Edna and Paul Browning are honeymooning today after a weekend wedding service in Richmond, Contra Costa County. They met in a country school in Neosho County, Kan., in 1907. Then teacher and pupil, they went separate ways, married and raised families. They ran across each other recently and began writing. Last March widower Browning, 82, proposed to the former Edna Johnson Wittsell, 73, a widow, and she accepted. (AP Wirephoto)

Jury Selection For $150,000 Suit Starts

Jury selection started today in the $150,000 damage suit against Marin County and San Rafael for the death of a woman who suffered burns on a heater in the county jail on April 16, 1959.

The suit was filed by the estate of Mrs. Bernice Lucille Lind of San Rafael, a 39-year-old part-time drug store clerk, who died in a Texas hospital May 23, 1959.

Mrs. Lind's mother, Magda Smith, administrator of the estate, filed the suit against Marin County, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and his deputies, and San Rafael police.

Mrs. Lind was arrested April 16, 1959, on suspicion of drunkenness, and placed in the women's cell of the county jail, which was heated by a plug-in type of electric heater.

A short time after she was jailed, Mrs. Lind was found lying over the heater, burned and semi-conscious.

The suit charges that the county and officers were negligent in having a dangerous and defective heater in the jail.

The case is being heard by Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. Attorney Richard V. Bettini is representing the City of San Rafael; attorney John G. Buresh, representing Marin County, and Norman Leonard and Richard Breiner, representing the estate of Mrs. Lind.

Mill Valley's Horn Gets Back Its Toot

Mill Valley's horn in the tower above the city hall, ailing for the past week and one-half, got new wind today.

Normally it tells the hour of noon and 5 p.m. by two short, loud blasts, automatically. Of late it has been balking at one blast. Jerry Tom of the Standard Electric Time Co., San Francisco, restored the second toot today.

Army Pilot Succumbs After Vietnam Crash

SAIGON (AP)—A U.S. Army officer died today after the two-engine fighter - reconnaissance plane he was piloting crashed in rugged terrain 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

Helicopters took out the pilot and his Vietnamese observer soon after the crash, but the pilot was dead on arrival at a hospital. The Vietnamese was injured.

San Jose School Budget Might Be $1,717,108 With No Tax Hike

San Jose School District trustees last night approved a $1,717,108 preliminary budget for 1964-65, calling for no increase in the current general purpose tax rate of $2.25.

The total budget represents an increase of $166,240 over the 1963-64 appropriations of $1,550,868.

School district voters also pay an additional 40 cents in override taxes, above the $2.25 rate. This amount also will remain the same for the coming year, Supt. Ralph Giovanniello said.

Trustees hired eight new teachers for the regular term and two for summer school.

"This makes our staff complete in the elementary grades, but we still need two teachers for seventh grade and one for eighth grade," said Giovanniello.

Those hired and their schools were: Linda Bissel, second grade at Pacheco; Mrs. Jean Bryant fifth grade at Intermediate; Dorothy Fong, kindergarten at Pacheco; Mrs. Shirley Rice, first grade at Meadow Park; Mrs. Frances Spicer, second grade at Meadow Park; Mrs. Harriet Woodbury, fifth grade at Loma Verde; Marilyn Koepsell, first grade at Pacheco, and Mrs. Mary Hiatt, seventh grade at Intermediate.

Mrs. Dorothy Thomsson and Mrs. Katherine Sadler resigned from the summer school staff. Sally McDermott and Mrs. Carla Terzich were hired as their replacements.

The board approved agreements with the City of Novato and the Air Force for summer recreation programs. The program with the Air Force has been increased from 1,200 to 1,700 hours.

Giovanniello reported the district hopes to go to bid in July on the Loma Verde and Intermediate schools multi-purpose rooms.

Jeff Scott, exchange teacher from England, told the board he had learned many things from the year he had spent in the San Jose District. He also told the board some of the things which English schools do which might be adapted by the San Jose District. He presented the district with a life-sized replica of one of the English crowns.

The board set July 3 as a holiday and adjourned to July 6 for a reorganizational meeting.

Residents Hear Plans For Corte Madera Flood Areas

About 20 persons last night heard a description of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project, plans for preservation of fish resources and recreational development in the area, and the county's role in the project.

The group attended an information session at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, sponsored by the club's conservation committee.

Speakers were Bertram Voss, chief of the water resources planning section of the Army Corps of Engineers; Mogens Ring, an engineer in the county public works department; Jack Robinson of the California Department of Fish and Game, and Kelvin J. Nelson, county director of parks and recreation.

Voss repeated the outline of the project, given Saturday by Charles Elmore, project engineer for the Corps of Engineers, during a three-hour tour of the creek by city and county officials and interested residents.

Robinson explained mitigation measures to maintain fish resources through concrete lined channel sections. These will include low flow channels in the bottom of concrete sections, resting pools for fish, and some gravel for spawning. Plans were worked out in conjunction with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Ring explained how the county would participate financially in the project, and how it would go about obtaining rights of way.

Nelson discussed proposed recreation developments in an area downstream from Stadium Way to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad bridge.

Most of the audience questions concerned construction of the concrete channel.

Ring said that if other groups wanted information sessions on the project, the Army District Engineers, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco, should be notified.

Students To Hear From GOP, Demos

Representatives of the Republican and Democratic political parties will speak to summer school government classes at Tamalpais High School this week to give students contrasting views on American politics.

George Sears, Mill Valley attorney, will address some 60 students in the civics classes of F. S. Corwin and John F. M. Hartnett on "The Principles of the Republican Party," at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Tiburon will follow Thursday with "The Principles of the Democratic Party."

Kentfield School Budget Gains

The Kentfield School District board last night approved a preliminary budget of $962,585 for the next fiscal year.

The board made a few minor changes in the tentative budget and added $500 to the maintenance account for additional painting of school buildings.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon reported the teacher aide program that has been operating in the district since December is successful and may be expanded.

The Kentfield School District board also:

1. Hired Mrs. Alice Ross as a half-time secretary-bookkeeper to begin work on July 1 at $181 per month.

2. Stated that credit would be given teachers who gave additional time and effort in the district's educational program.

Marin Golf, Country Club Heights Gain

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved the tentative map for Marin Golf and Country Club Heights, calling for 10,000-square foot lots, despite protests from residents of adjacent Marin Golf and Country Club Estates.

The new subdivision is on 44 acres between Eagle and Capilano drives. Residents of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates, which is zoned for half-acre lots, had objected that the area would be downgraded by allowing 10,000-square foot lots.

The commission also approved the tentative map of Hamilton Park, a residential subdivision on eight acres across Highway 101 from the west gate of Hamilton Air Force Base which is planned by Growth Properties Corp.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Granted John F. Giari architectural approval for an addition to John's Welding Shop at 888 Vallejo Avenue, and Berkeley Farms Inc. architectural approval for a fountain restaurant at Lamont Avenue and Highway 101.

2. Rejected parking plans of Bowler and Waltz for an apartment house on Ignacio Boulevard between Fairway Drive and Country Club Drive, and put the matter over to July 13 for submission of new plans.

3. Continued to July 13 request of Frank J. De Borba for rezoning from single-family to commercial of two parcels on South Novato Boulevard, the request of Ed Wood for a permit for a used car lot adjoining Smilin' Ed's Service Station on Highway 101 at Vallejo Avenue, and the tentative map of Cerro Vista Unit 4.

4. Set for July 27 public hearing on Harry Heifetz's request for rezoning from limited agricultural to commercial of 25 acres between Yukon Way and Novato Creek, west of Highway 101.

Among the 1,710,844 public high school graduates in 1963, there were 21,910 more girls than boys, reports the U.S. Office of Education.

Board Backs Legislative Areas Plan

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today voted to support the proposal for an amendment to the United States Constitution to allow states to keep area representation in one house of a bi-cameral state legislature.

The amendment has been proposed by Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), who represents Marin, and Rep. John F. Baldwin (R-Martinez).

Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested the stand, saying he was disturbed by the ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court that both houses of a state legislature must have representation based on population.

"In my opinion the Supreme Court reasoned very well to a very faulty conclusion," agreed Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman moved the board go on record that it "strongly approves" the proposal by Clausen and Baldwin.

Assault Case Is Postponed

Jury trial of Johnny Mack Taylor, 23, of 10 Gilbert Street, San Rafael, on three counts of statutory rape, scheduled for today before Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori, was postponed until Aug. 4-5.

Taylor, arrested by San Rafael police April 24, pleaded innocent to the charges Thursday. The offenses are alleged to have occurred April 4 and 5 with a girl under the age of 18.

Tomales Unionization Absentee Vote Asked

A citizen committee favoring unionization of elementary districts within the Tomales High School District last night urged any voters who will be away for the July 28 election to get absentee ballots.

Ballots must be obtained from county clerks in San Rafael or Santa Rosa between June 29 and July 2 and must be mailed to the county superintendent of schools of the respective counties of residence of the voter by 5 p.m. July 24.

The election will determine whether the Tomales Bay, Point Reyes and West Marin districts in Marin county and the Bloomfield, American Valley, Watson and Bodega Bay districts in Sonoma county should be united to make one elementary district.

Mrs. Kent W. Lawson, Dillon Beach, reported that members of the citizen group expressed fear that if the voters fail to approve unionization, county committees on school district organization would formulate plans which would result in loss of Tomales High School.

The committee set the next meeting for July 14 at Tomales Bay Elementary School.

Identical Twin Sisters Found Dead

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Identical twin sisters from Santa Barbara were found dead in twin beds in a Santa Rosa motel yesterday.

Coroner Andy Johansen said Ann and Isabel Major, 43, had slashed themselves with razor blades. They arrived, identically dressed, at the El Rancho Motel Friday night in a rented car. They paid for two nights lodging and asked not to be disturbed. Their bodies were found by a room clerk after their time had expired.

More Cigarette Laws Are Urged Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon General Luther L. Terry told Congress today more legislation is needed before the federal government can regulate the advertising and labeling of cigarettes.

He testified also that any such authority should be given to the Food and Drug Administration rather than to the Federal Trade Commission. The FDA, like the Public Health Service which Terry heads, is under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Terry's testimony before the House Commerce Committee drew sharp opposition from another witness, Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger (D-Ore.).

"One wonders," she said, "just how serious the department's urge to regulate really is."

The Federal Trade Commission recently completed hearings on its proposals to require that cigarette packages carry a warning that smoking may be injurious to health, and otherwise to regulate advertising claims.

Mrs. Neuberger urged Congress to "do nothing which would obstruct or impede the implementation" of either the FTC program or a Public Health Service plan for mass research and education on smoking.

But Terry testified that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare believes that more legislation is needed to give the FTC authority to regulate cigarette advertising.

And he added that the regulation of cigarette labeling should not be in FTC hands, at all, but rather under the FDA.

TIBURON

will be the winner, Schmid explained.

While councilmen ponder on hiring a regular city administrator or manager, building inspector, planning staff, clerks, engineering staff or contracting for the services from the county, they also must consider where to put them. The rent-free school room must be vacated by about Aug. 20 to prepare it for students.

Tiburon Tidelands Development Co. has offered either of two old buildings to the city for a city hall; councilmen have taken no public stand on the offer.

If the immediate answers to city problems are unknown, many residents seem positive and united on ideas of what the far future of their city should be.

"I don't think any of us visualize any industry, even light industry here," said Gordon W. Strawbridge, chairman of the council-elect. Before moving to Tiburon Strawbridge was a Mill Valley city councilman for six years, two of them spent as mayor.

A residential city with "strict" zoning for any apartments is Strawbridge's aim, along with a service-commercial area which would not have "junky enterprises just appealing to holiday tourists."

"I don't want a Sunday carnival atmosphere," Strawbridge said, favoring "close control over rampant commercialism."

Strawbridge stressed that the opinion was his own and that he was not speaking for the entire council. He termed the council "well-balanced — we've been working very smoothly together."

Fred C. Hannahs, another councilman-elect, echoed Strawbridge's views: "I think everybody that campaigned is on record too retain and enhance the residential character" of Tiburon.

Questioned about Tiburon's Main Street, seemingly lined with shops and restaurants aimed primarily at weekend tourist trade, both councilmen and Mrs. Elva Paske, a prime mover in incorporation proceedings, were politely equivocal.

"It will change as time goes on—it's hard to tell," said Mrs. Paske. She hopes the city will be made up mainly of "single family, very good residential areas. The subdivisions here now are very good ones." She hopes for a "place that people will like to bring their families and live and enjoy."

Enjoyment might be enhanced by planting trees on both sides of Tiburon Boulevard, she suggested. Strawbridge also indicated he might approve of an architectural advisory board for future construction within the city, but hedged against "legislating taste."

As a waterfront community, Tiburon will have no city owned access to the bay. Strawbridge hopefully would like to see some sort of esplanade along the water.

"To me a waterfront should be owned—shared by the whole community," he said.

$170 Million Bond Issues Top Ballot

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Three proposed state bond issues totaling 790 million dollars head the list of 17 propositions on California's November ballot.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced yesterday that he has assigned the first three numbers to the bond issues.

A proposed 150-million-dollar park and recreation bond issue will be Prop. 1; a 380-million-dollar state construction measure will be Prop 2, and a 260-million-dollar issue for state loans to local school districts will be Prop. 3.

Jordan has not yet assigned numbers to 10 measures including the legislature's plan to outlaw a state-franchised, private lottery plan which will also appear on the ballot.

The last four places on the ballot will be for initiative proposals, including the private lottery plan. They are:

Prop. 14—To nullify present and future state statutes against racial discrimination in housing.

Prop. 15—To outlaw pay-television in California.

Prop. 16—To establish a state lottery operated by a private corporation. It would be defeated if the yet-unnumbered measure prohibiting a private corporation from performing a state functions were to receive more yes votes.

Prop. 17—To repeal California's "full crew" law governing railroads. The measure has not yet formally qualified for the ballot, but Jordan's office said it appears sure to make the ballot on the basis of signatures of registered voters already submitted to county clerks.

Rights Bill House Action Might Slow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect of final congressional action on the civil rights bill within 10 days was clouded slightly today.

President Lyndon B. Johnson reportedly has told House Democratic leaders he wants his top-priority poverty bill passed before the House adjourns for the Republican presidential convention.

This could clash with a pre-convention recess the Republicans have been counting on. Their platform committee meets in San Francisco the week before the convention starts July 13, and many congressmen are on it. Others want to testify.

Charles A. Halleck of Indiana told reporters yesterday that Republican members of the House Rules Committee might not be so inclined to cooperate in sending the civil rights bill to the House floor if they are denied the courtesy of an early recess.

LODGE

U.S. policy in Southeast Asia. He said the United States is willing to go all out to defend the integrity of the nations in the area, but he said "our purpose there is peace" not a widening of the war. In a bid to the Communist in Laos, Johnson said American reconnassiance flights over the area "can be ended tomorrow if those who are breaking the peace will simply keep their agreements."

2. He is naming Asst. Secretary of State U. Alexis Johnson to be deputy ambassador to the Republic of Vietnam. Johnson will be in charge there until Taylor can take over.

3. The government is going to do everything it can to get the nation to abide by the civil rights bill once it becomes law. The first step, he said, will be the appointment of a director of conciliation to help get "complete observance."

4. Said the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to explore jointly the possibilities of desalting sea water possibly through the use of nuclear energy. He said the first meeting on the project will be held July 14.

Senate Democratic whip Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), who said he had known about the resignation for about a day, said he understood the ambassador wanted to "come back and participate as a citizen with freedom of action" in the 1964 campaign.

Humphrey said Lodge has wanted to return for some time.

Robert R. Mullen, director of the draft Lodge movement, reported continuing strong sentiment for the ambassador.

Mullen said that last week he sent letters to about 600 Lodge supporters in 45 states asking their wishes, and explaining that he now was backing Scranton. He said 66 per cent of those who replied said they still personally favored Lodge over all other candidates and that 72 per cent insisted that the ambassador's name be placed in nomination at the Republican national convention.

Thief Remains In Store, Takes $600 In Goods

Mill Valley police reported today that someone apparently had himself locked up in Brown's Home Furnishers at 38 Miller Avenue last night, then when darkness fell, removed $600 worth of furnishings.

Missing, according to Elmo Harris, store manager, are a television set, tape recorder and vacuum cleaner with all attachments, valued at a total of $600. Other items may be missing, he told police, and an inventory will be taken.

Police said there was no evidence of a break-in and that the heavy, metal fire doors at the rear of the building were found this morning to have been opened from the inside.

Slaying Suspects' Attorneys Denied Motion For Mistrial

Distraught defense attorneys in the Donald G. Corbett Jr. murder trial in Marin Superior Court today moved for a mistrial on grounds that the prosecution deliberately attempted introduction of "irrelevant" information of the victim's background, despite earlier warnings by the court.

They also asked that Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales be cited for misconduct in the alleged attempt.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson denied both requests, however, and trial testimony was to resume at 2 p.m. following a noon break.

Robert Lee Jones and John Lee King are accused jointly of the murder.

The mistrial motion followed introduction by Bales of 14 photographs of the murder site—Corbett's Sausalito apartment—and of the victim's body. Prosecution witness William C. Bradley, assistant Marin County coroner, testified at Bales's request that an inscription on a beer stein in the apartment was "Yale or Harvard or something like that."

Peter Allen Smith and Thomas P. Boyd, defense attorneys, said this was a calculated attempt by Bales to make the jury aware of Corbett's background as a Yale graduate, and was material unrelated to background that will be substantiated by state's evidence during the trial.

Judge Wilson earlier in the trial had admonished Bales about such information.

Bradley also testified that upon his arrival at the apartment March 30, he found what appeared to be bloodstains on towels in both apartment bathrooms, and on a hallway wall-to-wall carpet.

He said there were also two bottles of liquor—one vodka and the other, brandy—in the apartment, along with lime juice and other evidence of drinking.

Other morning witnesses were Edmond D. Mauberret, identification technician with the Marin County sheriff's office, who told of sketching a likeness of the gunman who robbed Harbor Liquor Store in Alto March 25, and Rosalinde Estes, 27-year-old girl friend of Corbett.

Mrs. Estes, a San Francisco divorcee, was on the stand only five minutes today. She testified she was not engaged to Corbett.

Jones and King are charged with both March 27 murder and the armed robbery of the liquor store two days earlier.

POLICY

went out of their way to make crystal clear to the Chinese and North Vietnamese Reds the U.S. position.

Among these spokesmen were Richard I. Philips of the State Department, Gen. Paul D. Harkins, who last week retired as commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, and Adm. Harry D. Felt, retiring commander in the Pacific.

In recent days, warnings of U.S. determination also were believed delivered to the Red Chinese by President Charles de Gaulle of France, by the British in Peking and to Soviet Nikita Khrushchev by Danish Premier Jens Otto Krag during the former's visit to Denmark.

At root cause of the U.S. action is the failure of neutrality to work in Laos, the increasing fears of Thailand and the stepped up activities of the Communist Viet Cong in South Vietnam as they attempted to take advantage of the country's unstable political atmosphere.

The strong U.S. warnings eliminate any possibility of a misunderstanding such as many believe existed just prior to the war in Korea.

A U.S. statement of position in January, 1950, failed to include Korea in the United States' defense perimiter. This theory holds that the Communists never would have attacked as they did in June of that year had they known the United State immediately would come to South Korea's defense.

Secret Talks On Laos Peace Begin

LONDON (AP)—The British government disclosed today that secret talks have started with Communist Poland to arrange an emergency Laotian peace parley.

Announcing that exchanges have gotten under way in Warsaw, a Foreign Office spokesman told newsmen:

"These negotiations are confidential and so I can give no details about them."

The British move followed suspension last week of British-Soviet attempts to set up six-nation peace talks on Laos which were contemplated for Switzerland this month.

Election Notices

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night authorized Edwin S. Long, board secretary, to post election notices by July 10 in connection with filling positions of two directors whose terms expire in September: Frank I. Lawson, chairman, and John J. Gallas.

They're Being Feted For 50-Year Marriage

George Everill Bennett and Florence May Alexander were married in Vancouver, B.C., on June 30, a half century ago.

The Bennetts, residents of Marin County for 13 years, live at 117 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo.

They lived in Seattle, Wash., for many years, where Bennett owned and operated a lumber millwork business.

On coming to Marin, they first lived in Mill Valley, where they built a home at 20 Val Vista. Until his retirement, Bennett was superintendent of the cabinet shop of Fairfax Lumber Co.

He still works one day a week as a volunteer at the Marindale School for the Orthopedically Handicapped in Terra Linda.

The Bennetts' son, Frank E. Bennett of Mill Valley, is superintendent of mails in the Mill Valley Post Office. He and his wife, Julia, have two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Brabo and Miss Carole Ann Bennett, and a son, Richard Everill Bennett.

The elder Bennetts will be entertained at their son's home Saturday, with all the grandchildren present to mark the anniversary.

There was also a party in their honor given by the Senior Citizens of San Rafael. The Bennetts have been active in this group for seven years.

U.S., Russ Reach Desalting Accord

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to explore jointly the possibilities of desalting sea water, President Lyndon B. Johnson announced today.

Johnson said a meeting will be held July 14 to review possibilities in this area — including the feasibility of using nuclear energy as a means of accomplishing it.

He said the Russian and American representatives will report after the meeting to their countries on how to proceed.

The president said his scientific adviser, Dr. Donald F. Hornig, will head the United States delegation. It will include representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Interior Department.

He expressed the hope that the meeting would lead to "effective scientific cooperation" in the field of desalinisation.

In a speech June 10 Johnson said an "economic breakthrough" had brought near "the long promised day of economical nuclear power." He was referring to improvements in technique which have made possible reductions in the cost of building giant atomic power plants.

These plants, Johnson said, also could be used for desalination, thus raising "a dramatic prospect of transforming sea water into water suitable for human consumption and industrial use."

Earlier, on April 1, a special interagency task group reported that by 1975 huge nuclear plants could be simultaneously producing cheap power and cheap water.

The task group, at the request of the White House, had spent a year studying the feasibility of using nuclear heat to desalt sea water.

In a report submitted to Dr. Hornig, the group said it should be possible by 1975 to develop nuclear plants producing 1,000 to 1,500 million watts of electricity plus 500 to 800 million gallons of water per day.

San Rafael City Council To Hold Budget Meeting

The San Rafael City Council will hold its first meeting on the fiscal 1964-65 budget at 7:30 p.m. today in the city hall.

The proposed budget prepared by City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen calls for outlays totaling $3,484,005, or about $365,000 more than actual city expenses in the current fiscal year. Included is more than half a million dollars toward completion of a new city hall.

Councilmen will review the budget as a whole tonight and will meet with department heads subsequently to go over requests for each department. In the course of discussions, they will decide whether to keep the city tax rate at the 94 cents levied this year or reduce it. Andersen said a reduction of five cents would be possible without endangering reserves. Last year, the council lopped two cents off the city tax rate.

Crewman Sucked Out Of Plane

FORT WORTH (UPI) — The pressure system on a B-52 jet bomber failed at 33,000 feet today and sucked a crewman out of the plane. He was presumed dead.

The accident occurred over Plano, a suburb north of Dallas.

A woman called the sheriff's office at Fort Worth and reported she had found a door from a plane. Police were trying to determine whether it came from the B-52.

The Carswell Air Force Base at Fort Worth said the bomber, did not crash, although first reports said it had disappeared from radar screens.

The pilot radioed words of the pressure system failure.

A B-52 normally carries a crew of six.

Stock Exchange Manager Sought For Embezzlement

NEW YORK (AP) — The office manager of a New York Stock Exchange member firm is being sought in an embezzlement that may total $700,000.

Named in a warrant is Jeremiah T. Moran, 61, for two decades an employee of Burnham and Co., which disclosed yesterday it had been the victim of embezzlement.

The police alarm said Moran, a frequenter of race tracks, is wanted for grand larceny of $375,000. A detective said that much was known to be missing and the figure may reach $700,000 when additional records are checked.

Burnham said its 25-million-dollar insurance policy more than covered any loss.

Moran was last seen leaving the Wall Street office Friday.

The 50's bring new dimensions to life and to a man's need for life insurance. The children have grown up, retirement is not far away and the tax people are getting interested in your estate.

You need a lifetime income for your wife—a requirement that is emphasized by the life expectancy tables and the three out of five chance that wives will outlive their husbands.

A surprising number of people have taxable estates these days, thanks to inflated values. Estate taxes could be a thorny problem for your heirs and may require the sale of irreplaceable assets.

Age 65 for most men brings retirement—years that can be a rich and satisfying experience if you have enough income.

The ideal solution to all these problems is Life Insurance, guaranteeing immediate cash or lifetime income depending on the need. Talk to the Man from Manufacturers. You'll find him especially helpful in measuring your present insurance against these "new dimensions" after 50.

Mill Valley Girl Going To Travel In Japan

Kanazawa will be the home of Jill S. Rutledge of Mill Valley for one month this summer when she goes to live with a Japanese family under the Experiment in International Living program.

Miss Rutledge, 18 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Rutledge of 91 Longfellow Road, does not know the family she will be staying with yet. Kanazawa, she said, is on the east coast, the Sea of Japan, not too far from the recent earthquake.

She is to leave by air Saturday with 59 other students and will return Aug. 24, after which she plans to attend University of Redlands.

Asked if she knows any Japanese, Miss Rutledge said, "No. Since it is a hard language, we will probably have to find some other way of communication."

She said she will live with a family one month, then spend a second month traveling about Japan with a member closest to her age from the Japanese family in a group of 10 Americans, 10 Japanese.

Miss Rutledge requested to go to Japan, saying she loves the architecture and culture. She explained she wants to live the Japanese way, eating and sleeping on the floor, and that she is now practicing use of chop sticks and sitting on the floor for periods of time to get her muscles "firmed up."

She said she intends to look up a Japanese girl pen pal and that her family has invited Japanese students and non-students to their home through a committee dealing in friendly relations between foreign students.

Shannon Boyd, also a Tamalpais High graduate, is the other student going from Tamalpais High School with the experiment program. She will go to England.

Mystery In Disappearance Of Rights Workers Deepens

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)— Mystery deepened today in the strange disappearance of three young civil rights workers. They were last heard from last night after paying a speeding fine in this east central Mississippi town.

The FBI and the Mississippi Highway Patrol pressed a search for the two white persons and a Negro, part of the first wave of summer volunteers seeking to reform this state politically.

Missing were Andy Goodman, 20, and Mickey Schwerner, 24, both of New York City. With them was James Cheney, 22, a Negro member of the Congress of Racial Equality from Meridian.

They came here Saturday after a week's orientation course for the Mississippi "Freedom Summer Project" in Oxford, Ohio.

With Cheney at the wheel they drove to Philadelphia, reportedly to see the ruins of a Negro church that burned last week after armed whites broke up a church board meeting.

Officers stopped the three Sunday and charged them with speeding. They were let go after being held in jail several hours. Cheney paid a $20 fine.

Sheriff's deputies said they released them about 10:30 p.m. A spokesman for the Neshoba County sheriff's office said a patrol car followed the workers "several blocks to make sure they got out of town all right."

As hours passed without any sign of the trio, concern rose. Cries came from civil rights groups for a search.

In New York, James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, called for an air and ground search by the Meridian Naval Air Station.

The Council of Federated Organizations, one of the groups spearheading the summer drive, said because the three were not heard from Sunday "that means they haven't been physically able to call."

FBI agents arrived in Philadelphia last night. In Washington, Edwin O. Guthman, Justice Department information officer, said the FBI was making a full probe of the "possibility that they are being held against their will or that they are otherwise being deprived of their civil rights."

Modern car batteries need regular attention, points out the National Automobile Club. Inspections twice monthly should be minimum.

Ludy Alters Pay Raise Position

County Supervisor George H. Ludy yesterday backtracked on his stand on how pay increases should be made to Marin County employees.

At a board meeting near the beginning of the year, he told personnel director Robert D. Elliott he would fight to have a flat increase approved, so that each employee would get the same amount of dollars per month in pay raise.

Elliot has strongly opposed flat dollar increases.

Ludy said yesterday he feels that "no benefit can possibly be gained this year unless a realistic approach such as presented by Mr. Elliott is given much thought and consideration."

Elliott proposed to revise the salary ordinance so that most employees would get a minor pay increase, and changes the amount of future annual automatic pay increases. The personnel director also asked that pay raises be held off until Jan. 1.

Doctor Says Declare Patient Dead When Brain Stops

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The patient should be declared dead when his brain stops sending out electrical waves — even though his heart still beats, a Boston surgeon said today.

Dr. Hannibal Hamlin said that heart stimulators, respirators and other devices too often maintain the look of life for days and weeks at the expense of the patient's family's agony and bank account.

The main lethal factor is lack of oxygen in the brain, and attempts at resuscitation should be pursued only so long as the brain responds along with the heart and lungs, he said.

Although the heart has always been thought of "as the sacred chalice of life's blood," Hamlin said "certainly the human spirit that is reflected in man's unique individuality is the product of his brain, not his heart."

He said some nobility in death is being forfeited by physicians' "stubborn and superstitious refusal to acknowledge that St. Peter is at the Gate or Charon at the Crossing."

Hamlin was referring to brain waves measured by electroencaphalographs.

More Youth Job Listings Needed

Many more listings for summer jobs for students are needed by the State Employment Service Office in San Rafael, Director Edwin W. Ayer announced today.

Of the 2,200 Marin County high school graduates, hundreds have applied for summer jobs but only 164 have been placed so far, he said.

Last year at this time, 270 students had found summer jobs through the employment office.

"We not only provide special assistance to youth but also to others in the work force who, because of age, race or physical disability, find themselves handicapped in job competition," Ayer said.

Marin City Session

Marin County housing authority commissioners will hold a special meeting at 1 a.m. tomorrow to consider authority participation in financing construction of elementary school facilities in Marin City, Donald O. Stutsman, executive director, said today.

Engineer Declares Car Smog Control Devices Harmful

Mechanics who contend that automobile smog control devices are almost worthless found support today from a retired Belvedere engineer.

Berger Stockfleth, 16 Old Landing Road, said his experience with internal combustion engines dating back to the 1920s shows that the smog control devices "not only lose the value of your gas but put more smog back into the air."

Devices which are connected to the carburetor or exhaust manifold and are meant to turn waste smog back into the engine will result in less effective combustion, therefore a less efficient engine, and so even more smog, Stockfleth said.

In Stockfleth's opinion, the so-called "afterburner" which usually costs more than $50 is slightly more effective—but only slightly.

The result of using the carburetor or manifild smog control devices is excessive engine wear, carbon and waste deposit in valves and rings, and frequent need of overhaul, he said.

Automobile engines are carefully engineered to burn just the correct amount of gas-air mixture with each piston stroke. The introduction of what normally would be waste products back into the engine can only make it less efficient, Stockfleth continued.

The only way to control smog immediately is to keep the engine perfectly tuned so there will be the maximum amount of combustion, the engineer said.

Smog control should be the responsibility of the car manufacturer, to build a more efficient engine and research into smog controlling devices, he contended.

"I cannot see that the public should pay for nothing," declared Stockfleth, referring to the smog devices required in California. "It's something worse (for the car) than they had before. The public is being gypped.

"Anything that will cause this engine to work less efficiently will cause more smog. You're not eliminating smog, you're adding to it."

Stockfleth has been a mechanical-electrical and management engineer all his life. By 1932 he had sold his Hydraulic Press Bearing Co., in Niles, Mich., and was free-lancing as an engineering management consultant.

Through the years he has been consulting engineer and management consultant for various companies including Soule Steel Co. in San Francisco and A. O. Smith Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

During World War II he was in charge of repairing fighter and bomber engines at Alameda Naval Air Station, where thousands of mechanics overhauled thousands of engines from the South Pacific theater.

In 1951 he was asked by the government to help set up a school of management for the ordnance division. Following this for three years he was in charge of production and maintenance of weapons for the Department of Defense.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — David Glenn, son of astronaut John Glenn, has enrolled at Harvard University for the start of the school year in September.

Sewer System Work Stopped

On the advice of an attorney, the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District has again stopped all engineering work on a sewer system for Gallinas Village.

Attorney Phillip D. Assaf suggested the move after talking with Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney about a suit brought against the county and the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

Assaf last week had told the sanitary district board they could go ahead with plans, because International Investment Co. had dropped its $200,000 suit against the community services district. But by Wednesday he had changed his mind, and the district board acted that night.

Assaf said the International Investment Co. suit, brought by the land developers, was dismissed "without prejudice" against the community services district, and so could be reinstituted at any time.

In addition, he said, if the county loses the case, the liability may still fall upon the community services district, regardless of who is named as a defendant in the suit.

SCHOOL AIDE 2ND HIGHEST PAID OFFICIAL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack P. Crowther, superintendent of Los Angeles city schools, got a $5,000 pay increase to become the second highest paid public official in California.

Crowther's salary, approved Monday by the Board of Education, will be $42,500.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown receives $44,000.

First Major Fire Is Under Control

SONORA (UPI) — A 1,800-acre brush fire, the first major fire of the summer season in Northern California, was under control today after it trapped one man who was air-lifted to safety.

More than 100 State Division of Forestry fire fighters battled the fire more than eight hours yesterday near the Don Pedro Dam on the Tuolumne River, 30 miles southwest of here.

The Division of Forestry boosted its estimate of acreage burned from 500 to 1,800 acres, almost all of it in brush. A small amount of timber was burned.

Corona's Pay Is Scheduled For Discussion

Study on the salary of Supt. Bert C. Corona is scheduled by the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. today at the district office.

The board requested a county-wide and state-wide comparison of superintendents' salaries June 9 when the salary of Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat was raised from $14,600 to $15,500 per year.

Corona receives $18,000 per year on a contract which has two more years to run.

Initiation of a program for educationally handicapped children and review of drawings and specifications on Davidson Junior High School and Sun Valley School classrooms and library will be discussed.

A request from the San Rafael Recreation Department to rent two school buses will be considered.

'Show Clean Films'

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul IV, in a letter today, urged Roman Catholic theater owners to show courage in blocking the showing of immoral films. The pope sent the letter to the International Catholic Film Office meeting in Venice.

Clausen Introduces Bills For Airline Crew Safety

Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) has introduced three bills to prevent hijackers or passengers from attacking airline crews in flight.

Clausen's bills are designed to prevent such tragedies as the May 7 crash in Danville, Contra Costa County, that took 43 lives. A commercial airliner crashed after a passenger shot the pilot and co-pilot.

Clausen introduced a bill Friday to prohibit anyone but the flight crew from entering the pilot's cabin while the airliner is in flight. It also prohibits the carrying of firearms or explosives on board without a permit.

"This is a tough law," Clausen said. "It prohibits the act or attempt to carry a firearm or explosive on board a commercial aircraft, regardless of the intent of the passenger, without a permit." A convicted violator would face a fine up to $10,000 and a prison sentence up to 10 years.

Clausen previously introduced two bills to prohibit air trip insurance and to provide that airline cockpits be locked, bullet-proof, and fitted with a one-way window, and that crews be armed.

Clausen also reported that he has "joined the fight to repeal federal excise taxes as one of the most discriminatory taxes of all."

He said he is seeking repeal of the excise taxes by next year.

"Besides the burden this 10 per cent tax places on women for cosmetics, handbags and jewelry," he said, "the small businessman must conduct a continuing training program to see that his employees are properly informed of the items for which a tax is to be collected. If errors are made, he is held accountable."

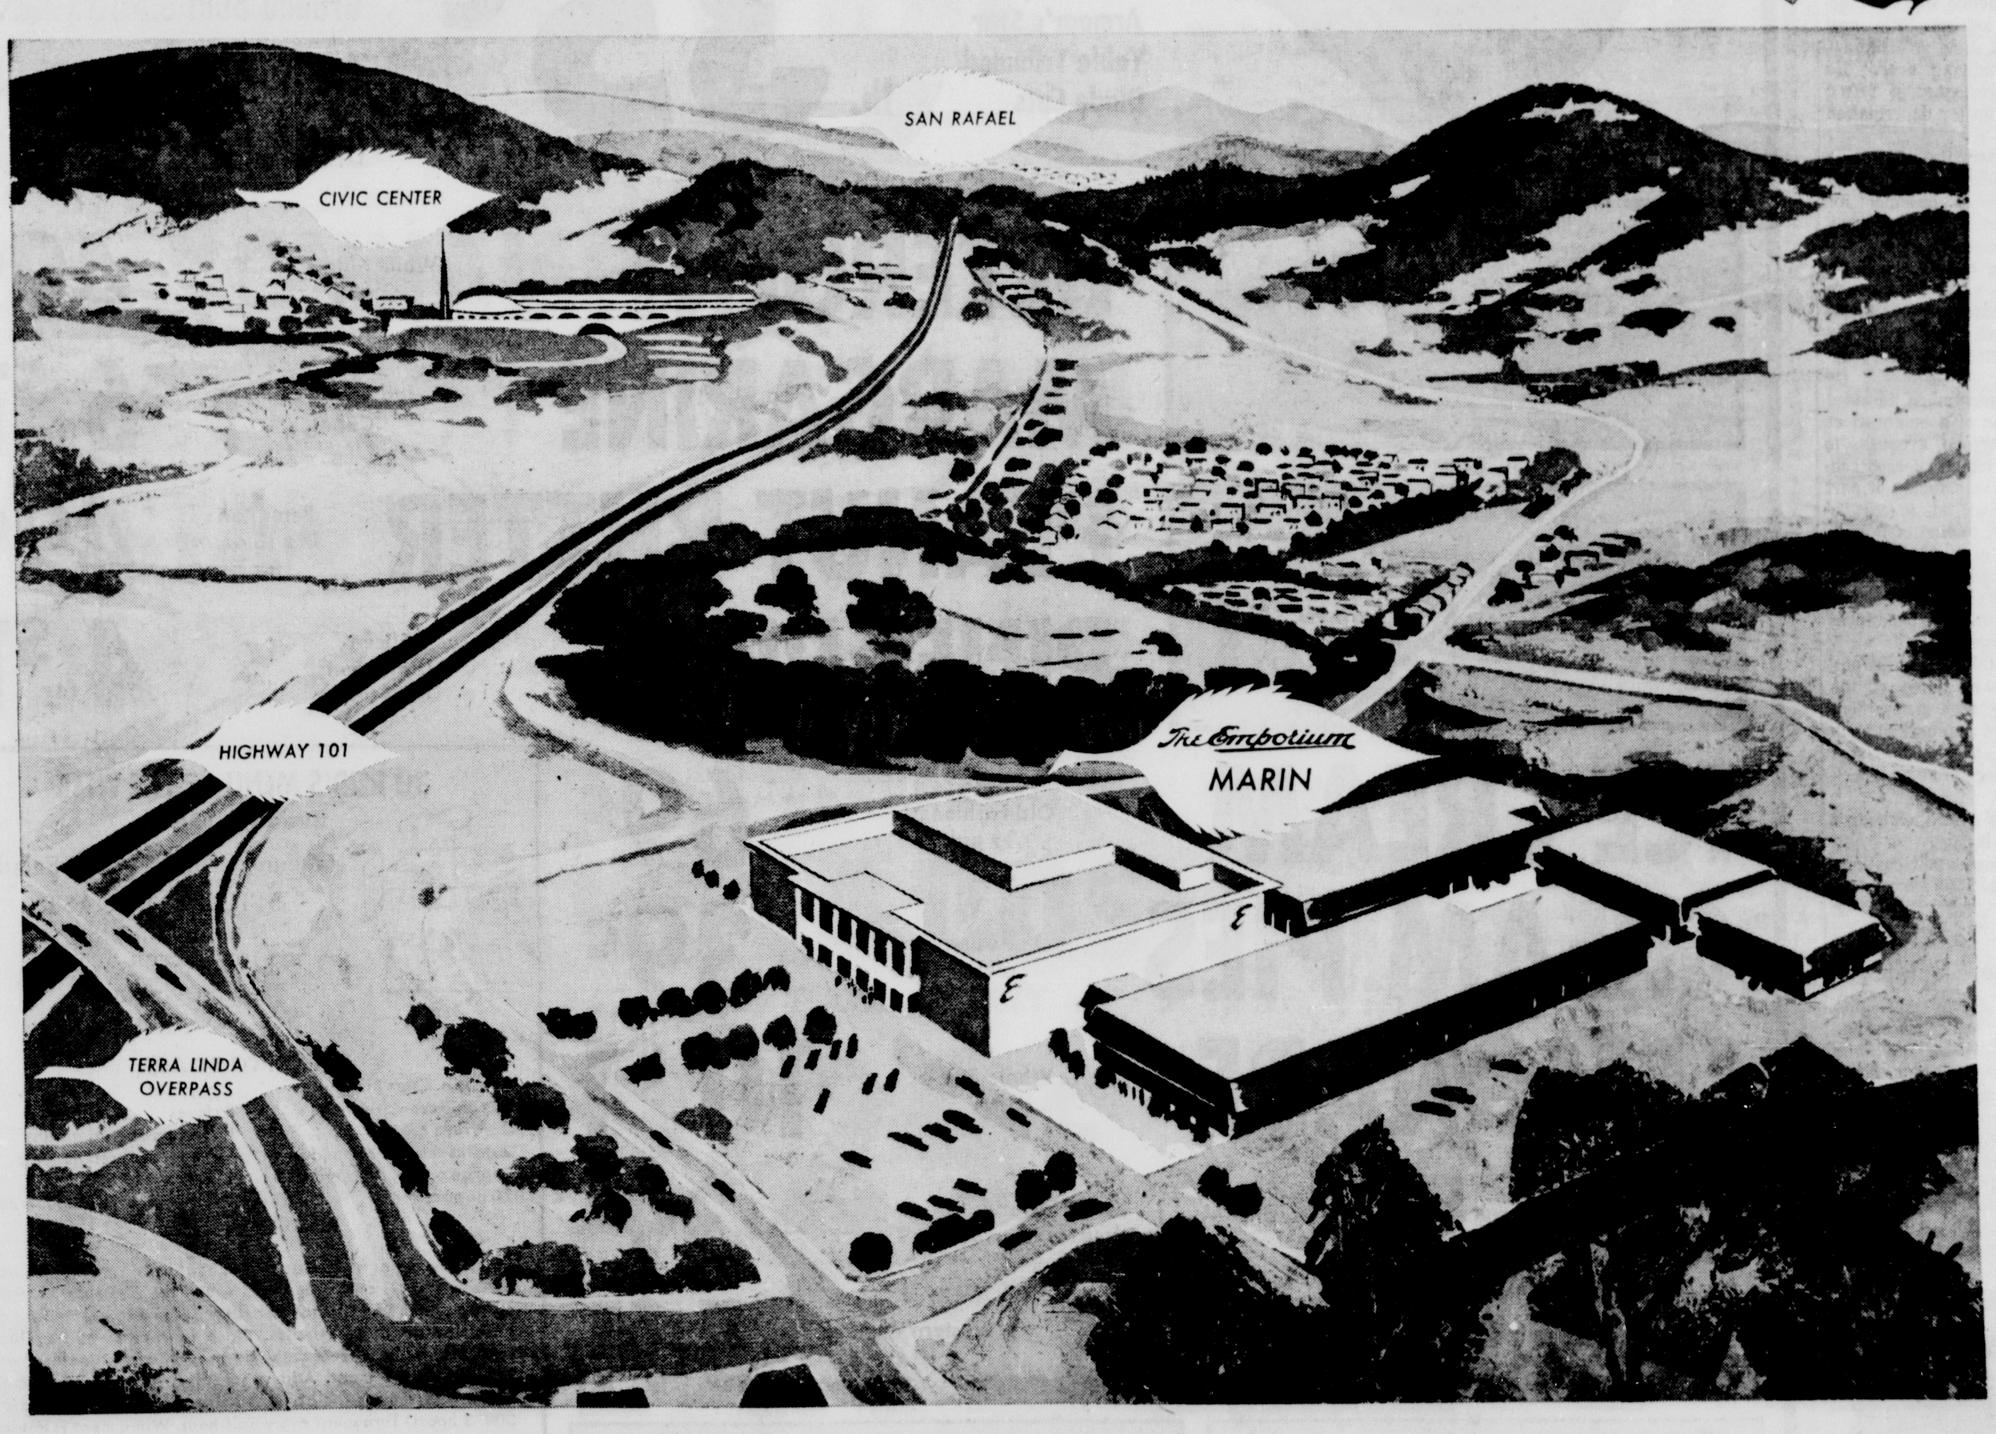

Clausen also said that the telephone tax is long overdue for repeal, and charged that "the automobile purchasers and people in need of auto parts or accessories must carry an extra burden to satisfy the appetite of some of our wild federal spenders."

Fairfax Struggles Over Pay Requests In Budget

A shirt-sleeved Fairfax City Council sat down for four hours last night to review a proposed $338,203 budget for 1964-65 — nearly $70,000 over estimated revenues for the year.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio estimated that if the current tax rate of $1.82 per $100 of assessed valuation were to go up next year, it would be a small increase.

Councilmen pored over suggested figures and discussed items with each department head. Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton and Police Chief James Orr made appeals for salary increases for their personnel, but no decisions were made on pay for any city employees.

The proposed budget total is up $55,404 over 1963-64 figures. All departments show increased requests for funds.

The figures submitted to council show the following requests: general government, $65,737; public works, $18,130 for engineering and administration, and $71,178 for streets; police, $83,179; fire, $85,670, and parks and recreation, $14,310.

Police and fire chiefs asked for "merit" or step increases in accordance with a proposed ordinance the council has had under discussion for some time, but has never adopted. The ordinance would adopt the State of California five-step salary range table. Fairfax now has no provision for automatic increases.

The present minimum for patrolmen and firemen is $517, and the maximum is $570. Chief Orr asked an increase to $598 for patrolmen, as well as increases for those not at the maximum, and an increase to $676 for sergeants, now at $613.

According to the proposed ordinance, patrolmen and firemen would reach a $628 top in three and one-half years.

Chief Thornton also asked for merit increases within the range, to place his men on the scale according to their years of experience.

Orr told the council "If you want to freeze my salary for a year, do it, but don't freeze the officers. They are working too hard."

He asked councilmen to include something in the budget for vacation relief and requested an additional officer to give assistance to the patrolman who now must work alone from 4 a.m. to 8 a.m.

The council agreed to hire a part-time police department secretary to type reports from a dictating machine. She will be paid $2 an hour for not more than 80 hours a month.

Orr also asked the council to consider paying officers for time spent going to court on days off or in their off time after working full shifts. He noted that he did not have enough personnel to give compensatory time off.

The chief said he had a vacancy for sergeant which he planned to fill after adoption of the budget. He requested a third sergeant and said about four of his men were able to take an examination.

Also included in the police budget was a $3,000 request for replacement of vehicles.

Commenting on Fire Chief Thornton's salary requests, Mayor Cornelius Van Vliet said: "The money is not there, Charlie. It is as simple as that. The combined budgets for all departments are already $55,000 over revenues."

Thornton noted that repairs were needed to the fire station, but could be held off until a bond issue for a new fire station was submitted to voters.

He asked for $9,000 for water main extensions, including $4,000 carried over from last year.

Thornton said the city should earmark money for a new fire truck, costing about $21,000 to $23,000. Observed Councilman Robert R. Souza: "I don't think it is good practice for each department to set up little nest eggs. The first thing you'll know, we'll have funds all over." He agreed, however, that a fund should be set up for depreciation of equipment.

Richard Nelson, the city's new director of public works, said his department needed equipment for preparing maps, surveying instruments and equipment, and a calculator, among other items.

He said the city will have to contribute about $1,300 to $1,400 monthly to get state matching gasoline tax funds for street improvement.

Nelson also mentioned the need for construction of a bulkhead at Azalea and Arroyo avenues, to replace wood with reinforced concrete, and for resurfacing of part of Scenic Drive, at a cost of about $5,000. A portion of Bolinas Road in front of city hall also is in very bad condition, he said.

The council also discussed general government expenditures with Mrs. Leonesio.

Councilmen talked over the possibility of putting some of the city's money into government bonds instead of commercial bank accounts, and decided to have City Atty. Wallace S. Myers check the legality.

The parks and recreation budget was discussed briefly.

Budget discussion will continue next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Estes Going Into Business In Shop At Mexican Border

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Billie Sol Estes, whose phantom fertilizer tanks won him fame and prison sentences totaling 23 years, is preparing to set up shop on the Mexican border, selling souvenirs and serapes.

Workmen began erecting a huge neon sign over a pawnshop on the north bank of the Rio Grande yesterday:

"Billie Sol Estes — Importer and Exporter of Fine Products."

The sign is 24 feet long. According to the city permit for its use, it will feature a sketch of Estes' face in neon.

Estes' multi-million dollar empire collapsed in 1962. He was convicted on state and federal charges of fraud and swindling and sentenced to 15 years on the federal count and eight years on the state charge.

He is free on $140,000 in bonds while his lawyers appeal both decisions.

The sign was being put up over the P. W. Sloan pawn shop at the U.S. end of the Santa Fe street bridge, which carries one-way traffic from Mexico into U.S.

Mutual friends of Estes and Sloan say the two men have agreed to go jointly into the import-export business, dealing in Mexican products such as serapes, pottery and hand-tooled purses and belts.

It was reported that Estes would be considered an employee of Sloan. If Estes, who declared bankruptcy when his west Texas speculations caved in, were to head the firm himself, the profits would be liable to claims by his old creditors.

Doctor Hearing May End Suddenly

The possibility that the hearing on the denial of staff privileges for Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman at Marin General Hospital may be terminated abruptly was raised last night.

At conclusion of yesterday's two hearing sessions, hearing officer John D. McDonough said, "If I was advised by the board to suspend the hearing, I would accept their directive."

The attorney for Marin Hospital District, Harold F. Riede, said he would inform the board of McDonough's statement at its meeting today at 8 p.m. Board chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who was present at the hearing, said after it ended, "I see no reason for it going on without any witnesses."

Riede said that all replies to registered letters he sent to prospective witnesses were answered by their attorneys, who stated they would not allow their clients to testify at the hearing.

The hearing officer and board have been denied subpoena powers by a Marin Superior Court ruling. After the first witness, Dr. Alvin A. Natanson of Burlingame, testified, a $200,000 slander suit against him was filed by Ascherman.

Although outlining a possible action by the board, McDonough said it was his choice to continue the hearing and gather "all available evidence." He would then make his ruling on the evidence and submit it to the board.

Dr. Dallas L. Wagner, chief of staff at Marin General Hospital, occupied the witness chair for most of the hearing time yesterday. He outlined procedures used by the medical advisory board and credentials committee in reviewing Ascherman's application for surgical privileges at the hospital.

Under cross-examination by Ascherman's attorney, Harry Gonick, Wagner said that the credentials committee and medical advisory board recommended denial of privileges on the basis of depositions taken from San Francisco doctors in Ascherman's six-million-dollar suits against the Wagner said that in all of the cases referred to in the depositions, except one, the doctors had not observed Ascherman perform surgery.

He said the depositions were doctors and four hospital considered valuable, however, because "of the fact they were taken under oath."

Gonick pointed out that the statements in the depositions were not based on direct observations, were hearsay, and were made by persons being sued by Ascherman.

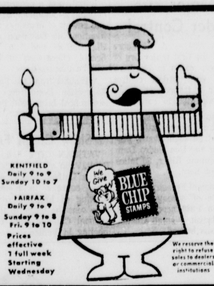

Wagner said the credentials committee was not in favor of giving Ascherman a promised hearing before it because of the provision in the by-laws for an eventual hearing before the Hospital District Board.

Wagner admitted that Ascherman "had quite a varied experience" in surgery. He said some of the doctors on the hospital staff have not been certified by the American Board of Surgery, as Ascherman has.

The chief of staff said he was sure some doctors on the staff of Marin General Hospital have been involved in malpractice suits. He said the committee was not aware that Ascherman had never been sued for malpractice.

He admitted "in this regard, Ascherman certainly compares favorably in a legal sense."

Wagner read post-mortem, electrocardiagram and pathological reports on a case Ascherman operated on at Mount Zion Hospital, which were submitted as evidence. He admitted, under questioning by Gonick, that Ascherman's diagnosis was "correct" where it had been alleged in the bill of particulars that he had acted against the advice of the chief of surgery at the hospital.

New San Rafael Bank Announced

EUGENE A. OSTAGGI
To head new bank

San Rafael's third new home-owned bank within two years will open within six months in the Northgate area, attorney Samuel W. Gardiner reported today.

Scheduled to head the new financial institution as president and manager is Eugene A. Ostaggi of Ross, former executive vice president of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn.

Permission for the new bank, to be known as the Marin Civic Center Bank, has been granted by the State Banking Department. The application called for initial capitalization of $1,500,000, but Gardiner said the state agency had suggested this might be increased to $2,250,000. Directors of the new bank have not yet decided whether to make the increase, he reported.

Articles of incorporation will be filed within 30 days, and public sale of stock probably will begin within three or four months, the attorney said.

Gardiner and his associates in the banking venture filed in 1962 for a state charter for a new bank in the Civic Center vicinity. The state at that time rejected the application as premature, suggesting that it be renewed later.

Imminent opening of the Emporium and other major stores indicates the time is now ripe for the bank to start business, said Ostaggi.

"We are convinced the Northgate area will be the principal commercial center of Marin County," he declared.

Exact location of the bank has not yet been selected, but it likely will be somewhere in the Northgate Center itself, Ostaggi said. If so, it will be the third bank there, as Wells Fargo and Crocker-Citizens National Banks already have branches in Northgate.

Dr. Matthew E. Hazeltine of Kentfield is slated to head the board of directors of the Marin Civic Center Bank. Other directors are Thomas D. Minto and John F. O'Connell of Kentfield, Edgar T. Lindner of Ross, A. Von Tiotz of San Anselmo, Gardiner and John F. McInnis of San Rafael, and Ostaggi.

Ostaggi has been active in organizing the new bank since leaving Ross Valley Savings two years ago. Before his service with Ross Valley Savings, he was manager of the American Trust Co. (now Well Fargo) branch in San Anselmo and worked in American Trust Co. banks in San Rafael and Petaluma. He is a Marin County native.

Two locally owned banks were chartered year before last: Redwood National Bank and Bank of Marin, both with headquarters in downtown San Rafael. Both have since expanded, Redwood having opened a branch in Napa and Bank of Marin having opened a branch in Petaluma and having another scheduled to open soon in Novato.

Violence Flares Briefly At St. Augustine Beach

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI) — Two brief flurries of violence broke out today when about 100 integrationists returned to a St. Augustine public beach in a fifth swim-in attempt in the Atlantic surf.

Police moved in quickly in both instances and arrested five persons, including two white women, before the violence spread.

As the civil rights demonstrators walked down a ramp to the beach a white man lurched into them, but was quickly carried away by officers, along with a negro man.

Minutes later, as the demonstrators waited on the sand to enter the water, at least one white youth raced into their midst flaying away with his fists. He was hauled away by officers quickly.

Police also carried two white women to patrol cars after the second incident.

About 50 police had sealed off the beach with two lines of patrol cars in anticipation of renewed violence. About 15 whites attacked the mixed group of demonstrators twice yesterday, once using two foot long sticks.

Several officers waited on the sand today in their bare feet in case they were needed to wade into the water to protect the would-be swimmers. When the integrationists reached the water today, a long line of officers stepped between them and 20 white waiting in the water.

Small Italian Statue Back With Owner

A small Italian statue which strayed some distance from its home Sunday night was returned yesterday to the front entrance of Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

The five-foot-high, semi-draped girl turned up unexpectedly yesterday morning on Pomeroy Road in Ross. It was found by David N. Plant, who reported the sand-ecement trespasser to Ross police.

At 5:15 p.m., Mario J. Brenta of 23 Garden Road, Ross, restaurant assistant manager saw the lady's picture in the Independent-Journal and called Ross police to have it returned.

The Italian-made statue is worth $1,100, according to restaurant owner William H. Mc-Devitt of San Rafael. It was purchased three years ago at a San Francisco antique shop when the restaurant opened.

"I guess it was some prankster who didn't know what to do with it," said Brenta. The statue was reported in good condition "except for a few chips."

Marin Youth Center Merits Full Support By Marinites

For Marin citizens willing to back their interest in young peoples' welfare by substantial financial support, we suggest serious consideration of the Marin YMCA Youth Center building, planned for the Marin Civic Center. Truly, this is an investment in youth—in this case, a program of proven value, even though conducted and administered with a woeful lack of physical facilities and professional aid.

For the 1963-64 fiscal year, the Marin Juvenile Probation Department budgeted $725,000 for an estimated 1,200 teen-agers in trouble, an average of $640 each. In the same period, the Marin YMCA spent $43,400 on 1,500 teen-agers: per capita cost, $29. Taxpayers pay about $4,000 a year to keep a high school-age child in a correctional institution.

Briefly, the Youth Center project is a centrally-located headquarters and facility for the county-wide activities of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs in our high schools, with ample means for further projects for youth. The Y work now conducted from an outmoded family residence building in San Rafael will be centered in a new building, designed by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, to include a large multi-purpose room, clubrooms, kitchen facilities, lounge, administration offices and other desirable features.

The site has been provided by the Marin County Board of Supervisors. The building cost is estimated at $363,-250. As a kick-off donation, the Draper Companies gave $10,000. Pledges to date are around $60,000. It is hoped that the center can be opened by 1967.

In its 16 years, our YMCA has combined recreational and social activities with character building, community service and moral and physical fitness. Approximately 1,200 teen-agers in 60 clubs have programs in many constructive fields. Among these: Visiting and entertaining sick and elderly in nursing homes; sponsoring deserving classmates in educational activities; enthusiastic participation in the Youth in Government program at Sacramento, with its representatives observing and experiencing government action and elected state officials' responsibilities.

We tell the high school youngster he must act like an adult, but give him little opportunity to assume equal responsibility with adults. The Marin YMCA Youth Center program is aimed at changing this attitude. It's a worthwhile financial investment.

Remember Polio? It Was Kayoed

Gone from current Marin County health statistics — and certainly not mourned—is reference to poliomyelitis.

No new cases of polio have been reported in Marin since 1962. Thus far, no new cases have been reported in 1964 anywhere in California.

Public health officials credit this to that fantastically successful Bay Area KO Polio Campaign waged early in 1963, when millions of children and adults received sugar cubes containing Sabin oral vaccine.

Preventive means are still here, in an improved form, the Health Department reports. Instead of the three doses required for that Kayo campaign, the three vaccine types are combined; two dosages are now sufficient. Marin physicians can administer the new type preventive.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Gov. Brown Urging LBJ To Retain Republican In Utilities Board Seat

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown usually is willing to help his friends off the spot, especially when they are Democrats and happen to be President of the United States. This, in fact, may account for the governor's urging President Lyndon B. Johnson to reappoint Charles Ross of Vermont to the Federal Power Commission.

THE FUROR OVER Charles Ross is of nation-wide scope, and the pleas in his behalf for reappointment cover both political parties. Ross happens to be a Republican, and this is believed to be the first time Governor Brown has urged anybody to do a good deed for his enemies, political-wise.

But Ross, according to all the reports, is a "friend of the consumer," albeit he is a Republican; all members of the California Public Utilities Commission urge his reappointment, and Governor Brown is impressed with Ross' defense of the consumer.

It's no secret that the consumer needs some defense as to his position in the multi-million-dollar drama of natural gas, for the consumer is the one who eventually pays the bill. Both the householders of the nation and the manufacturers are involved, with the battleground covering the entire country.

Why this puts President Johnson on the spot is a story of more than mild interest to people who use gas for cooking, heating and manufacturing.

THE PRESIDENT comes from a natural gas producing state, Texas. His political friends are and have been the moguls who control the industry. And the industry largely is against federal regulation.

The situation on the Federal Power Commission has been a see-saw operation, with Ross holding the balance of power in the endless questions debated over gas rates, production authorities, and pipeline transmission. Reports are to the effect that Ross has been inclined in these matters to give the consumer a break.

On the other hand, friends of the president likely would be inclined to have a boy on the job who would look with a more favorable eye on the problems of the producers and transmitters of natural gas. Granting this is true, speculation might be to the effect that Ross is doomed.

However, there is such a thing as public pressure. Sometimes it is natural and spontaneous. Other times, it is engineered quietly, but nevertheless effectively.

WHICH OF THE two methods is being used on behalf of Ross' reappointment is hard to tell, but nevertheless, the public pressure is there as evidenced by Governor Brown's plea to the president for reappointment of the Vermonter, and by dozens of other pleas from all parts of the country.

So with public pressure at his side, the president well could inform his campaign-contributing buddies from the Lone Star State, and other places, that his hands are tied, reappoint Charles Ross, and thus maintain the same equilibrium on the Federal Power Commission that existed under the Kennedy administration.

Should he do this, he no doubt would receive the plaudits of millions more voters than the gas producers can influence. Should he not do it and appoint someone else, his action would be open to severe criticism during his forthcoming campaign.

So, all indications are an appointment or reappointment will wait for a time, maybe until after November.

Auto Smog Control Story Held Smoggy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To me, the anti-smog control device comments in Wat Takeshita's second article are pure nonsense. I believe that the devices are the greatest improvement in the comfort of aging cars that has been produced in the last decade.

My cars travel a steady 30,000 miles a year, and a long time ago I discovered that most of the so-called "eyestrain" of heavy driving came about because the crankcase fumes of an aging car produce a Los Angeles smog inside the car. Before smog control devices were mandatory—or, as far as I know, even available—I used to get rid of "eyestrain" by sealing the crankcase breathers and running a pipe from the crankcase to the carburetor.

It's the same idea as the factory smog control kits, but the design was a little different. Because I have been doing this for many years, I may easily have more actual experience of driving with smog control devices than anyone else in the county.

The improvement in the comfort of the cars as they get old has been enormous; the ill-effects none. As a fair sample of the lack of ill-effects, take my present car, which I bought new with a factory-installed anti-smog control device in 1961. Up to this morning it has traveled 94,622 miles and the only trouble has been some noise in the valve lifters at 40,000 miles. This was cured by switching to a different brand of oil.

Apart from 3,000-mile oil changes, the only attention given the engine has been new plugs and points at 25,000, 50,000 and 75,000 miles. It still runs very sweetly. Oil consumption is now about a quart every 600 miles, but the miles per gallon at 14¾ are better than when the car was new. My guess is that the car will go to 110,000 miles or more before oil consumption gets high enough to warrant a ring job. The valve on the smog control device is checked every 10,000 miles, as suggested by the factory, but has given no trouble.

It would take a lot to convince me that smog control devices caused the troubles of Lars Williamson and Lester Jennings.

Councilmen Ignore Petitions, She Says

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I attended the council meeting of the City of Larkspur June 17.

As a citizen, as a former teacher, and as a mother of future citizens, I was appalled at their lack of respect for petitions. The bearers of the petitions were questioned to see if they spread misinformation.

One councilman wanted to "follow to will of the people," but he ignored the petition and did not want to receive phone calls. How else can the "will" of the people be heard?

One councilman, elected from Greenbrae, refused to be guided by the petitions from his area. How can he represent the people?

I thought the meeting made a sham of the democratic process of our country—petitions.

Wants Truth Assays On News Contents

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Thomas Jefferson once suggested that editors should divide their newspapers into the following four sections: Truths, Probabilities, Possibilities, and Lies. He said the first section would be very short. Some of us who are conservative think that in most newspapers, eg. the New York Times, Washington Post and San Francisco Chronicle, the first three sections would be very short.

Possibly our conclusions concerning the veracity of the nation's press are unfair. It might be that the press is only suffering from poor judgment. Nevertheless, I feel that in recent years the news media, deliberately or otherwise, have helped to promote certain false ideas which have led to public acceptance of policies which have been detrimental to this country, and to approximately one billion other people in the world as well. I cite the following examples:

1. China: Chiang Kai-shek was an evil, corrupt war lord who did not deserve the support of this country. Mao Tse-tung was an "agrarian reformer," or something similar. The solution was to withhold aid and arms from Chiang Kai-shek until he consented to a coalition government. Result? Communist China.

2. Laos: The right-wing government was evil and corrupt without the support of the people. The Pathet Lao were patriots fighting a tyrranical regime. The solution was to withhold aid and arms from the right-wing government and force a coalition with the Pathet Lao. Result? We now have the option—Communist Laos or war.

3. South Vietnam: Diem was an evil, corrupt tyrant who did not have the support of his people. Since coalition governments were somewhat obvious by now, the solution was to overthrow (and unfortunately murder) Diem. Result? Probably Communist South Vietnam or war.

4. Cuba: According to the N.Y. Times and liberal press, Castro was a latter-day Simon Bolivar. According to conservatives he was a communist. Who was right?

Many other instances could be cited: Katanga, Algeria, Brazil, ad infinitum, but that is past history. What is important now is for the American public to be given the facts on the issues which confront the nation. Given the facts, I have a deep faith that the people will make the correct decisions. In this election year, a year which might be a turning point for this nation, it is vitally important that the nation's press should not be a propaganda organ for a particular political philosophy. All we conservatives ask is an even break.

Conservatism vs Spirit Of 1776

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Reference Isabel Isherwood's letter, Monday, June 15, in which she scored several effective points excepting conservatism.

If she had lived in 1776, for which cause she bravely waves the flag, she would have been waving the unthinkable Union Jack. That is what all conservatives were doing then.

BEERBOHM TREE, a famous English actor-manager of yesteryear, once sought to persuade Mrs. Patrick Campbell, a star of equal magnitude, to appear in a play with him. He wasn't willing, however, to give her equal billing: the posters were to read "Beerbohm Tree in a new comedy, WITH Mrs. Patrick Campbell." "Why not," demurred Mrs. C., "Beerbohm Tree AND Mrs. Campbell?" "My dear," replied Tree icily, "you should be happy it's not 'BUT Mrs. Campbell.'"

P.S. Mrs. C. accepted the job anyhow!

In Vietnam, reports Dick Tregaskis (author of "Guadalcanal Diary" and "Vietnam Diary") newly arrived officers are generally presented with two bullets by thoughtful veterans. One, the master of ceremonies explains with a straight face, is for the newcomer to fire at himself upon contemplating the long stretch of duty that lies ahead of him in horrendous terrain against Commie guerillas. The other bullet is to use in case he misses himself the first time.

Goldwater Views Broadly Told In Candidate's Words, Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, has laid down in words and deeds his views on domestic issues and problems.

What follows is put together from his statements, his books, his positions in the Senate.

CIVIL RIGHTS — He considered unconstitutional both the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation—while agreeing with its objectives—and any government interference in education.

But he later switched and said it's the government's job to enforce a federal court's edict on desegregation. Thursday night he announced he will vote against the civil rights bill, but said again he opposes segregation.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING—He wants it cut, contends free enterprise would provide all the jobs needed if allowed to work without government interference.

At the same time he is against monopolies by big unions or big business. But to prevent monopolies requires strong federal interference. And there is no truly free enterprise system.

There can't be so long as American business wants tariffs to protect it from foreign competition and government subsidies to help it survive. Goldwater is vague on ending such subsidies.

FEDERAL AID TO SCHOOLS — He is particularly against it for elementary and secondary schools, he said: The government has "no right to educate children" the "child has no right to an education."

But the government has been aiding education in one form or another for more than 100 years. Here Goldwater predates Adam Smith, patron economic saint of American conservatives. Smith said in 1776 in his book, "The Wealth of Nations," a government should help education.

MEDICAL CARE for the Aged — He's against the Kennedy-Johnson program to tie such aid to Social Security, saying it "detracts from the responsibility of the family."

FARMERS—He said "we should get the farmers back on the law of supply and demand" and suggested phasing out the government's farm program over four years.

GOVERNMENT'S ROLE in American Life — He would narrow it sharply, saying "The legitimate functions of government are actually conducive to freedom, maintaining internal order, keeping foreign foes at bay, administering justice, removing obstacles to the free interchange of goods." There he sounds exactly like Adam Smith.

HOUSING, PUBLIC POWER and Urban Renewal Programs—He has said the government should withdraw from all of them.

Labor — He is for right-to-work laws, which unions oppose, but has been against the union shop, compulsory arbitration, industrywide bargaining, political activities by unions, broadening the minimum wage.

TENNESSEE VALLEY Authority — He proposed selling TVA to private industry, later seemed to be saying only part of it should be sold.

SOCIAL SECURITY—He suggested putting it on a voluntary basis but didn't explain how it could survive that way. Later he said he wants to keep it and strengthen it by making the pension dollar sound.

WELFARE PROGRAMS—He is particularly antagonistic to these, has said the government should withdraw from them, suggested private charity as a solution, but has been unspecific on precisely what programs should be dropped.

They include aid to needy old people, to the blind and permanently disabled, crippled children, child welfare, and programs to curb juvenile delinquency.

TAXES—He was all for eliminating the graduated income tax. Later he seemed to modify this by saying there should be a tax overhaul.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

President's Club Woos Nation's Most Wealthy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The "exclusive" fund-raising "President's Club" set up by the late President John F. Kennedy is taking on a new dimension under his successor.

As an inducement to businessmen, industrialists, labor leaders and others to join the select Democratic organization by contributing $1,000 or more, they are being offered "direct access to President Lyndon B. Johnson and his White House aides."

BEING SINGLED OUT for special emphasis is the president's intention to "seek the views and recommendations of club members in considering and selecting federal appointees."

Other membership enticements are being listed, but the above are the most stressed.

This plain cold-turkey selling is being done by two of the president's principal political lieutenants — Clifton Carter, Tex., among the closest to the president, and Richard Maguire, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and a key Kennedy holdover.

IN A CAREFULLY unpublicized drive the Carter-Maguire team is holding private meetings throughout the country to boost the "President's Club's" membership from 1,620 to 3,500 for the great fall election.

Illustrative of these membership-selling sessions is the one that recently took place in Cleveland, Ohio.

Carter related the origin of the "President's Club" under President Kennedy, its primary purpose of raising campaign funds, and the various advantages to members. On the latter, Carter was frankly explicit.

"THE 'PRESIDENT'S CLUB' is very exclusive," he said. "Now its members are assured of direct relationship with President Johnson. In dealing with the president or members of his White House staff, members will not have to go through state or national party officials."

This alluring gambit was clinched by Carter as follows:

"The president also recognizes that businessmen and industrialists know the value of the dollar better than anyone else, and make outstanding administrators when named to important public office."

Patrick O'Malley, head of the Cleveland AFL-CIO, took blunt exception, and emphatically contended that labor leaders were equally capable of filling government jobs.

Carter immediately sought to make amends. "President Johnson is in constant consultation with labor leaders, and those who join the 'President's Club' will have the same access to him and his White House staff as other members."

SO FAR, the "President's Club" has raised more than 1.5 million dollars. Of that, $350,-000 was recently spent on a 24-page color supplement titled "Mr. President. The Office. The Man." that appeared in 14 Sunday newspapers throughout the country with a circulation of upwards of 10 million.

The project is the brain-child of a Washington public relations concern, the head of which insists the supplement is "not a political document," although it consists almost wholly of pictures of Johnson with adulatory captions.

Western Weekend, Other Doings Put Novato, County On The Map

WITH NOVATO'S Western Weekend just past, one can honestly say that Novato put itself on the map in the Bay Area with that celebration. People all over the area became conscious of this city, at least during the celebration.

Novato assumes the appearance of an Old West town during Western Weekend, when the stores decorate their windows in a Western theme. One of the best displays was off the beaten path and therefore was not seen by enough people.

Kathleen Simpkins and the other girls at the city hall collected some antiques and made a very good display. It was more of a spur-of-the-moment collection, but it turned out better than the girls thought it would. In the empty space at the end of the section of the city hall that houses the city administrator's offices, they recreated a century-old living room, complete with spinning wheel, and even General Vallejo's high chair.

BECAUSE THIS display was such an impromptu gathering of antiques, it did not receive the publicity which it justly deserved. Not nearly enough people knew about it in time to see it. The Independent-Journal's pictures of it were not printed until Friday, and the city hall was closed over the weekend.

So City Administrator J. Julien Baget said that the display could remain in the city hall through tomorrow so that more people could see it.

Although it is not a permanent display, it shows what antiques are lying around this city which could be used in a museum, when and if the city ever gets one. It shows what could be done if Baget's idea of having a museum in the old Northwestern Pacific railroad station, if that idea ever materializes.

NOVATO IS GETTING other publicity. The chamber of commerce has just received 13,000 picture post cards of the Novato city hall and Marin County club. Each are beautifully reproduced color photographs.

These have been distributed to the stores throughout the city for sale along with other scenic post cards. This is the first time that local scenes have been been available to anyone wanting to purchase them. The chamber of commerce should be commended for performing this service not only for the merchants, but also for those wanting to boost the city.

Novato is getting publicity elsewhere too. Although it is a commonwealth of the United States and presumably has the same educational system the following letter arrived at the Novato city hall from a shut-in in that commonwealth.

Hon. Mayor or City Administrator
Novato Municipal Govt.,
California, U.S.A.

Dear Sir:

As I know from your hospitality and good friendship, I wish your excellency, members of your cabinet, personnel from your office and friends. Send some scenic cards, available literature and progress report on Novato.

Please include photograph of yours, your governor and other important people of Novato.

Let me know the price of scenic cards to send money order.

How I would like to be an honorary citizen of Novato.

Mr. Jean Varas
Santo Domingo
San Juan, Puerto Rico

We are happy to report that his request was filled by the Novato chamber of commerce.

So through the interest of a shut-in in Puerto Rico, Novato is becoming known down there.

Marin County too has received publicity recently. The Mill Valley air force station on top of Mt. Tamalpais was featured in a recent edition of NORAD (North American Air Defense) news which is published in Colorado Springs and goes all over the United States and Canada.

Non-Startling, Not-Vital Little Facts Pour Over Columnist's Work-Table

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The two-job man may become as commonplace in America as the two-garage home. America now has four million moonlighters—people who hold more than one job. Seven out of eight of these double duty workers are men, most of them married. Moonlighting is most common among teachers, farmers, salesmen, postal employees, firemen and policemen. One of every 10 government employees holds down a second full-time job.

IN TAHITI, barbershops provide guitars rather than magazines for waiting customers to entertain themselves.

Some U.S. buses now have piped-in music to keep passengers contented. Japanese buses are decorated with fresh flowers.

IF WE DISLIKE someone, we sometimes say, "He's as phony as a $3 bill." But during the 1840s, the Republic of Texas circulated a valid $3 bill.

Quotable notables: "One of the many things people never tell you about middle age is that it's such a nice change from being young"—Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

IN TURKEY at one time, a wife has legal grounds for divorce if she could prove her husband neglected or refused to provide her with coffee.

It took all the wars across 175 years to kill a million Americans. The auto accomplished the same feat in 52 years. At the present rate, traffic accidents will take a toll of another million lives in 26 years.

IF YOU HAD saved your 1908 calendar, you wouldn't need one for 1964. They are the same, day for day.

Can you name the only U. S. president who ever hanged a man? As sheriff of Erie County, N. Y., Grover Cleveland personally supervised the hanging of two criminals, refusing to delegate the task.

LOVE MAKES employees happier and more efficient on the job, in the opinion of one Japanese firm. It pays a monthly bonus of $1.50 to couples who announce they are going steady.

Just 100 years ago the inscription "In God We Trust" first appeared on a U.S. coin—the two-cent piece. But Congress didn't adopt the phrase as our national motto until 1955.

QUICKIES: One man in 20, but only one woman in 200, suffers from red-green color blindness. The U.S. buffalo herd now numbers more than 6,500. Boys have 15 per cent more surgical operations than girls. A woman is twice as likely as a man to live to be 100.

Muir Woods Sewers To Be Finished In July

Aldrich Construction Co. of Castro Valley started construction yesterday on the extension of the sewer system in Muir Woods National Monument. Cost of the project, to be completed in 30 days, is $14,816.

The extension is to run from park headquarters through the picnic and lower parking areas to end in a leeching field about 2,260 feet away. According to Park Supt. James L. McLaughlin. Work is commencing first in vicinity of the headquarters.

We have a hunch that the high-style Chanel model reading the Independent-Journal is a little surprised.

For the I-J is a "model," too—YOUR model for showing you clothes and fashions. Bringing you the latest from Paris, Rome, New York...keeping you informed.

Knowing your tastes, our women's staff previews the fashions with a professional eye... selects top photographs from the style centers ...chooses the best in comment from the wire services.

All part of our effort to bring you a "well-dressed" women's section . . . the personal world of dress, designed to your measure. And with it, the other important worlds of health, of food, of social events and education.

Negro Elected Firm Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel R. Pierce Jr., a Negro lawyer, has been elected a director of U. S. Industries, Inc., a manufacturing company with sales at about 120-million dollars a year.

Mixed Market As Motors Are Weak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed irregularly lower today as motors showed further weakness.

Some drugs made strides.

The market was mixed most of the session but slipped off its even keel in late dealings.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.1 million shares compared with 4.56 million yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point prevailed among most key stocks.

General Motors sank more than a point. Ford lost a full point. Chrysler declined fractionally. American Motors and Studebaker eased.

Parke, Davis spurted more than a point following a report it has developed anew series of compounds which promise relief of pain and reduction of inflammation.

Steels, rubbers, oils and nonferrous metals were generally lower. Rails and building materials showed a higher edge.

Xerox sank 4 points. IBM and Control Data lost 2 each.

Curtis Publishing paced the list on volume and held a gain of about a point.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Wholesale Prices Are Getting Jittery Again

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Stability of wholesale prices—a rare thing during business expansion—has been a mark of the current upswing. But new pressures may be building up to tip the balance.

Already there have been considerable fluctuations in some commodities. Some prices have risen, particularly for industrial materials, because demand has caught up with supply. Others have been raised as a result of recent wage contracts. And more such negotiations are in the offing.

But so far, weakness in other commodities has kept the overall price index almost level.

The cost of living—or consumer price index—hasn't been so accommodating. It has held to a fairly steady if slow upward course, due mainly to advancing charges for services.

Since the present business upswing started early in 1961 the Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price index—based on the 1957-59 average as 100—has moved between 99.5 and 101.2. It now is right in between, just slightly above 100. The consumer price index in April was 107.8, from the same base.

Individual commodity price changes have been marked during the last three years, however.

Changes ranged from gains of 4.4 per cent for lumber and wood products and 4.3 per cent for tobacco and beverages to decreases of 3.6 per cent for chemicals and 4.8 per cent for fuels and power.

More recent price increases have been listed for various metals. Coal prices have risen at many mines after the latest wage increases.

In most previous periods of business expansion price changes have been much quicker and larger. This was particularly marked in the 1955-57 boom.

Since then, however, capacity to produce has become so large that it acted as a damper on wholesale price fluctuations. This was true during the last previous expansion period, 1958 - 60, although industrial wholesale prices did rise 3 per cent in that period. This was offset by a drop of 15 per cent in the index for farm products.

In the current expansion, abundant capacity to produce also has acted as a brake on commodity prices. This surplus of facilities has kept competition keen in many commodity markets.

Gas Discount Proposal Hit

WASHINGTON — An executive of a major oil company appealed to a House small business subcommittee today to block a General Services Administration demand for a discount on credit card purchases of gasoline by government employees.

William C. Marquis of Chicago, manager of direct sales for the American Oil Co., told the committee that "none of us in the industry—not the suppliers, not the jobbers, not the dealers—should juggle the economics of survival to let us live with the GSA proposals."

Marquis testified at a subcommittee hearing called by Rep. Abraham J. Multer (D-N.Y.) to inquire into government small business procurement practices.

Scranton Trying For More Votes

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania took his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination into neighboring Delaware and New Jersey today.

With a combined delegate strength of 52 votes, the two states were first on a list of regions to be visited by Scranton during his second full week of an 11th-hour bid to overtake and surpass the front runner for the nomination, U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

After a morning appearance in Wilmington, Del., Scranton was to cap the day by giving the principal address at a Newark, N.J., $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

Tomorrow Scranton will visit Charleston, W.Va., and Miami, Fla. His staff was working on appearances in Ohio and Michigan later in the week.

The current Associated Press delegate poll shows that in Delaware all 12 delegates are committed to favorite son Sen. John J. Williams. Scranton's people believe they can capture at least seven of these votes, if released by Williams.

The figures for New Jersey showed eight for Goldwater, two for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, one for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, four for Scranton and 25 uncommitted.

In the AP poll Goldwater's total indicated delegate support would give him more than enough for the nomination — if the support held up through the first ballot at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Scranton said during his 4,000-mile flying tour of five Mid-western states last week that his objective was to visit every delegation he could that was not legally bound to Goldwater.

Scanton told a news conference yesterday that results of his first tour in the Midwest were "better than I expected."

Asked to specify states from which he had received favorable reports, Scranton named North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Scranton was asked about published reports that some top Republicans were aiding his campaign privately. He replied that he had been in contact with many party leaders, including two former national chairmen, Leonard W. Hall and Meade Alcorn, before and after he decided to run, but made no direct references as to whether they were supporting his bid.

Corte Madera Reviews Part Of Its Budget

The Corte Madera town council last night reviewed part of the proposed budget for the next fiscal year and accepted most of town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow's recommendations.

The council approved hiring an engineering aide and making the positions of clerk-typist and stenographer-clerk fulltime. The council decided to consider, after adoption of the budget, creation of the position of public works director.

Purchase of a tape recorder for the building inspection and zoning administration departments was approved, and $800 was allocated to the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce for a brochure.

The council decided to meet next Monday to go over the street and park and recreation department budgets. Also at that time, the council will listen to the plan of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. for dredging San Clemente Creek. Police and fire department budgets will be reviewed on June 30.

Driver Appears Accident Prone

Lightning supposedly never strikes twice in the same place.

But a 24-year-old Hayward woman was given two identical citations by the California Highway Patrol yesterday after she was involved in two accidents a few minutes and seven-tenths of a mile apart.

First, Judith Gail Kramer hit a car driven by Peter Coss, 16, of San Francisco, 1.7 miles west of Mount Tamalpais State Park on the Panoramic Highway at 4:30 p.m.

Then Miss Kramer hit a car, again on a sharp curve, driven by Carol Rosalind Treat, 18, of San Francisco one mile west of the state park.

She was given two citations for driving on the wrong side of the center line. Miss Kramer drove her car away both times.

CHURCH PERFORMANCE — Marjorie Broughton of Corte Madera will be the vocal soloist in a program of voice and instruments at 8 p.m. Sunday at San Francisco's First Unitarian Church, Franklin and Geary streets.

Convention, Visitors Bureau Head Quits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Thor M. Smith, executive vice president and general manager of the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau, will resign his position effective July 1 because of "basic differences on administrative policy," it was announced today.

Succeeding him, temporarily, will be Robert J. Sullivan, who has been Smith's assistant.

X-15 Flight Canceled —Generator Trouble

EDWARDS AFB (AP)—An X-15 flight was canceled today, 10 minutes before the craft was to be dropped from the B-52 mother ship that had carried it into the sky.

Generator trouble in the X-15 was blamed. The experimental plane had been repaired and modified after a landing accident in November, 1962.

Carrow Calls Closed Session Over Suit

The regular council meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

GOLDWATER MAY HOLD VETO POWER

Moderates Want Endorsement Of Rights Legislation Which Senator Opposes

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater commands the largest single bloc of members thus far selected to the Republican Convention Platform Committee and may have a veto on any plank he opposes.

Party moderates and liberals who are fighting to prevent the Arizonan from getting the GOP presidential nomination have been plugging for a strong platform statement on civil rights.

They want an endorsement of the legislation Congress is about to pass, and against which Goldwater voted in the Senate. Moreover, they are contending the GOP nominee must be pledged to enforcement of the bill's sweeping provisions.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis.) chairman of the committee, said he would recommend a plank to put the party on record for "prompt and effective implementation" of the legislation which has had strong GOP support in Congress.

"I don't think this will cause any problem in the committee or in the convention itself," Laid said in an interview.

If a declaration of this nature is written into the platform, it apparently will be because Goldwater chooses to placate the moderates and does not choose to invite a convention battle over the platform before voting begins on the nomination.

Goldwater supporters played down the possibility of platform controversy.

Lee Edwards, director of information for the Goldwater-for-President Committee, said he thinks the platform that emerges will be acceptable to his candidate.

"We think we will get a platform that is neither liberal nor conservative but a Republican platform," he said.

Edwards said the Goldwater camp is content with the selections of platform committee members made so far.

Book Selecting Policy Due Mill Valley Schools

A policy for selecting books used in the Mill Valley School District was adopted last night by the board of trustees.

The first such written policy in the district, it uses criteria of the American Library Assn.'s library bill of rights and the American Assn. of School Librarians' school library bill of rights. It allows for procedures by which people can complain should they not like selected books.

Trustees agreed to consider hiring an additional librarian at budget sessions July 13 and Aug. 3, after receiving three letters urging it. The district now has two librarians and one library clerk.

Mill Valley School District trustees also:

1. Hired Mrs. William Hollenbeck, 114 Harvard Avenue, Mill Valley, as secretary at Marin Terrace School, effective Aug. 17.
2. Offered a job as teacher in intermediate grades to Marilyn J. Spiro of San Francisco.
3. Renewed a lease with Bam's Investment Co. for the district offices, 26 Miller Avenue, at $3,600.
4. Authorized renewal of liability insurance with the Mill Valley Assn. of Insurance Agents at a $2,923 premium for fiscal year 1964-65.

Mill Valley Park Group Proposes Tree Planting

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission proposed last night that the city plant trees in front of Mill Valley homes for $7 each, with the property owners to assume care of the trees.

The trees would be placed on the city street right-of-way.

The suggestion will be transmitted to the city council, said commissioner Raymond J. Bell.

Mill Valley's present tree ordinance does not spell out how to go about getting a street tree planted, although it describes how to get rid of one.

Commissioners agreed to install a new sign at the municipal tennis courts stating that Mill Valley residents have priority to play on the courts at any time, weekend or otherwise.

Prowler Stopped

Noel Sutherland of 810 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, reported to the sheriff's office that she spotted a prowler outside her home at 12:27 a.m. today. Miss Sutherland said she heard a noise outside, investigated and saw a man run into the bushes.

Lack Of Quorum

Sausalito School District trustees did not meet last night because of lack of a quorum. A special meeting of the board will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the district office to discuss the 1964-65 budget.

Cyprus Talks Reported To Be Going Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic officials reported today the talks between President Lyndon B. Johnson and Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu on developing some new approach to a solution of the Cyprus crisis are going reasonably well.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Asst. Secretary Phillips Talbot met with Inonu at the president's guest house in the forenoon for a discussion of possible settlements that might be worked out between Greece and Turkey.

Johnson, who met Inonu yesterday, and who has a final session with him set for late today, was reported to have pressed Inonu to agree to urgent direct negotiations with Greece.

Tomorrow, Johnson will meet with Greek Premier George Papandreou to make the same argument, insisting that both sides must be prepared to make concessions in the interest of Allied unity and the preservation of peace in the Mediterranean.

Rookie Hal Lanier Right At Home; His Bat Gave Giants A Big Lift

Jack Hanley

CINCINNATI—Seldom has a rookie made a more impressive major league debut than Hal Lanier. The new Giant second baseman was called up last Thursday from Tacoma and that night played his first major league game in Busch Stadium where a dozen years ago he shagged flies at the age of 9.

At the time Lanier was a Busch Stadium ball boy his father, Max, was closing his own major league career, virtually all of which the southpaw spent with the Cardinals (101-69) except the final years as a New York Giant (7-12) and St. Louis Brown (0-1) in 1953.

"I felt right at home," said young Lanier who admitted, however, that he was just a trifle nervous until his first fielding chance and first big time hit. "Any rookie who says he isn't is fibbing."

Everyone already knows that the rookie went 8-for-17 in the four-game series against the Cardinals, including his first major league homer, three doubles, six RBIs, four runs personally scored and a .471 batting average.

BUT LANIER sparkled on defense, too, despite being charged with an error in his first game. It wasn't a fielding or throwing error. It was one of omission. Bill Jackowski caught him straddling second base, neither foot touching the bag, on a force play. Umpires like to break rookies in right and there was no doubt that Jackowski was correct in his call.

However, it didn't upset the rookie. He took the lesson as lessons should be taken and thereafter made a point of giving the bag an obvious toe touch, particularly when he played the pivot man on his first big time DP.

IN ALL, Lanier handled 20 chances expertly in the four-game series and one of his plays drew the admiring plaudits of 20,646 partisan Cardinal fans in Busch Stadium last Saturday. Lanier has a tremendous range, both to his left and right, but on this particular play he made a diving stop to his left of a sizzling grounder off Bill White's bat.

Lanier flagged the ball on the outfield grass, then got up to make a perfect peg that nipped White by a step at first base. The stop was spectacular but the secret of the play was the way Lanier made the throw.

Later, he was to prove that the throw was no fluke. He made a bullseye relay from short right to Tom Haller that nailed a Cardinal trying to score from second on a single.

Nobody expects Lanier to keep hitting the way he did in his opening series. It must be remembered that the Cardinals had no book on him since they have no farm team in the Coast League. But it's otherwise with the Reds. Cincinnati's San Diego farm club supplied Red pitchers with a complete dossier on Lanier who was hitting .327, including four homers, for Tacoma when the Giants called him up. Against the Reds last night he went 0 for 3.

HE PRIMARILY was summoned for his glove which already has steadied the Giant infield that played the final two games of the St. Louis series without an error. It had been a long time since the Giants played an errorless game (73 errors in 61 contests).

But while his glove was warmly welcomed, it was his bat that gave the Giants a big lift and started everyone hitting again after a terrible team batting slump.

Topless Dresses For Wimbledon Tennis?

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON (AP)—Ted Tinling, arbiter of Wimbledon fashion, decreed today that the world's greatest tennis tournament is not yet ready for the topless dress.

"But you can't discount it as a long range prospect," said the gangling designer.

"It's not so long since my grandmother thought that unclothed legs were indecorous and look how times have changed," he said.

On the first day of the Wimbledon championships, the topless dress was nowhere to be seen among the female spectators or competitors. A few have appeared in London store windows, but so far the bosom revealing fad is being treated as a bit of trans-Atlantic whimsy.

"Let's face it," said Tinling, "the great British public is not yet ready for it. But just wait and see.

"The topless dress is here now for private parties.

"I think there are future possibilities in the field of the transparent top."

Tinling, a World War II British intelligence officer, has been stirring up fashion controversy at Wimbledon ever since he launched Gussie Moran's lace panties 15 years ago.

His most daring departures this year have been reserved for Italy's lovely and lissome Lea Pericoli — once the subject of official wrath at the championships for wearing shocking pink panties beneath her tennis dress.

Tinling has fitted out Miss Pericoli with a rajah suit — trousers and long shirt — and a dress with a skirt compiled of ostrich feathers.

Miss Pericoli is expected to be seen in the plumage Wednesday, traditionally ladies day of the two-week championships. Seventy-five groups of four ostrich feathers have gone into the garment.

Tinling doesn't think it will catch on, but said "The novelty is the thing. If you had 130 women running around these courts dressed identically, the place would be dead in five years time."

He is more hopeful for the rajah suit.

"There has always been a number of girls who like playing in slacks. Miss Pericoli can be my trail blazer," he said. Tinling is dressing nearly 50 per cent of the women players here and five of the eight women seeds.

"This year, there are more lace trimmings and more fancy cut out necklines," he said. "Since Wimbledon now bans color, I must find something for people to look at."

GIANTS CAN RECAPTURE N.L. LEAD TONIGHT IF . . .

CINCINNATI—With some help from the Chicago Cubs, San Francisco's Giants hope to regain the National League lead tonight in their doubleheader against the Cincinnati Reds.

Willie McCovey put the Giants within 1½ games of the Phillies last night with a grand slam homer in the sixth that gave the San Franciscans a 6-2 win.

As the Giants and Reds clash tonight, the Philadelphians meet Chicago in another twi-night twin bill.

There are two big IF's in the Giants' chances of regaining the lead:

They must win both their games from the Reds.

And, Chicago must take a pair from Philadelphia.

McCovey's saving 400-foot-plus smash atoned for his fifth inning error that gave the Reds two runs and put them ahead last night. Lanky Willie ruined Bobby Bolin's bid for a shutout by dropping Pete Rose's two-run fly in left field.

Bolin and John Tsitouris of Cincinnati were locked in a quiet pitchers' duel until the fourth inning, when a sudden rhubarb sparked the things that were to come.

Tsitouris drew a warning and an automatic $50 fine from plate umpire Ed Vargo when a pitch whistled past the ear of Giant rookie sensation Hal Lanier. Reds' manager Fred Hutchinson stepped out to have a word on the subject and was banished for the first time this season.

Cincinnati then got its two runs in the fifth on an error by Bolin, a single by Steve Boros and McCovey's miscue with the baserunners moving.

Tsitouris was working on a no-hitter when he stepped to the mound in the sixth, but the Giants got one run and had men on second and third with Willie Mays stepping to the plate. Tsitouris decided to walk Mays and face McCovey—whom he had struck out four times in the previous six times he had faced him.

But the law of averages finally ran out on the Cincinnati pitcher. McCovey laced the first pitch over the rightfield barrier for his 11th homer of the year and the second grand slam of his major league career.

That was the end of the line for both starters. A pinch-hitter went in for Bolin during the Giants' rally, and McCovey's big blow ushered Tsitouris to the showers.

Billy Pierce came on for Bolin and blanked the Reds on just three hits during the last four innings, striking out three. Bolin had fanned five during his tour on the mound.

The Giants added another run in the eighth when McCovey singled and was relieved by pinch-runner Billy O'Dell, who went to second on a passed ball and scored on Orlando Cepeda's single.

S.F. Veteran Wins Wimbledon Start

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Defending champion Margaret Smith of Australia and second-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil easily won their second-round matches in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships today before rain halted play after 50 minutes.

Tom Brown, 41-year-old American making his first Wimbledon appearance since 1948, fought his way into the second round in a match interrupted last night because of bad light.

Brown, an attorney from San Francisco who was defeated by Jack Kramer in the 1947 final, won over Graham Stilwell, former British junior champion, 8-10, 6-2, 6-2, 5-7, 8-6. Only the fifth set was played today and Brown survived two match points before he finally won on his backhand.

Miss Smith disposed of Annette Van Zyl, South Africa's No. 1 player, 6-2, 6-1.

Miss Bueno, relaxed and confident, had no trouble with Carol Prosen of Orlando, Fla. in a 6-0, 6-3 victory.

The women had drawn first-round byes.

'Boc' Is Back In The Old Groove

John Boccabella of San Anselmo, after a slow start with Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League, appears to be back in the groove.

The slugging first baseman upped his batting mark 12 points to .245 during the last reported week from Player Periscope of Novato, getting 9 hits in 27 appearances at the plate for the top Chicago Cubs farm club.

But more important than the number of hits, six of them were for extra bases as Boc smashed two homers, three triples and a double. On the season, he now has 13 homers, 5 triples and 7 doubles, all good for 37 runs batted in. He has also scored 35 runs.

On the slugging side of things, in which John is most famous, all the way back to his days at Marin Catholic High and University of Santa Clara, 25 of his 56 hits this season have been for extra bases. Although his hitting mark is only .245, his slugging percentage is .489 (based on total bases and number of at bats).

GERRY ARD of Fairfax, shortstop for Modesto of the California State League, chopped 6 points from his mark for the last reported week when he got 4 for 20. His average now is .247.

His two doubles for the week put his season total to five. His other extra base blow for the year was a triple. He has scored 20 runs and has knocked in 21. His average is based on 44 hits in 178

KEN ANDERSON of San Rafael dropped his average from .250 to .245 for Greenville, S.C., of the Western Carolina League when he had 3 for 15 in the last reported week.

For the year, the outfielder in the Milwaukee Braves organization has 35 hits in 143 trips to the plate. He has 3 doubles, 10 runs batted in and 13 runs scored.

RON COLE of Mill Valley, the only Marin County youngster now in professional pitching ranks, was stung for one loss during the last reported week for the Modesto Colts. Appearing in one game, Cole went six innings and allowed 5 hits and four bases on balls and struck out two batters.

The righthanded flinger is sporting a very creditable 2.90 earned run average to go along with his 6-3 win-loss record for the season. In 62 innings on the mound, he has allowed 49 hits and 25 walks while whiffing 56 enemy batters.

Can't Beat Cal; Cornell Crew Quits

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—The rowing world was stunned yesterday by Cornell's withdrawal from the Olympic trials.

The Big Red, rated a strong contender to go to Tokyo, announced that it will not take part in the trials July 8-11 at Orchard Beach Lagoon in New York City.

Cornell Athletic Director Robert Kane said he had consulted with members of the rowing squad and Coach Stork Sanford and they had all agreed that "we cannot improve enough to catch up with that magnificent California crew."

The University of California, unbeaten this season, scored a decisive victory in last Saturday's intercollegiate rowing championship varsity final at Syracuse. Cornell, the defending champion, was a badly-beaten third, a length behind runner-up Washington.

Sanford said after the race that the Golden Bears' eight was the finest he had ever seen in collegiate ranks.

Mill Valley Girl Wins In Riding

Shirley Stuart, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stuart of 133 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, won a third place ribbon last week in the California State horseback riding championships at Sacramento.

Miss Stuart's prize performance was in the five-gaited division of 13-17-year-old riders. She is a junior at Tamalpais High School.

'Confident' Braves Lose 7 In Row; Yankees Streaking

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The show of confidence will reflect on the play of our ball club—no doubt about it," said Manager Bobby Bragan after he received a new contract from Milwaukee.

If the Braves' first game under Bragan and his new contract is an example of what he meant, the reflection is more weird than you see in a fun house mirror.

Two hours after Bragan accepted the written vote of confidence yesterday, the Braves dropped their seventh straighth game, 10-9, to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

True, the Braves exploded for 15 hits, including five home runs, but they still couldn't erupt from the slump that has dumped them into ninth place in the National League, their worst position in the standings since they moved to Milwaukee 12 years ago.

They also are only one game away from equalling the season's longest losing streak, held by the New York Mets, the only team between Milwaukee and the cellar.

In extending Bragan's term through 1965, President John McHale said:

"It is important that during this slump period we recognize that Bobby Bragan has put great effort into the building of this club, and we are confident that his work will pay off this year and in future years."

In celebration of the event, Bragan went out and used the same line-up (excepting the pitcher) he had used the day before. That was rare for the scrappy Alabaman, whose juggling of the line-ups could earn him a spot on the Ed Sullivan Show.

There was nothing rare, however, about the ensuing defeat. There was nothing rare either about the New York Yankees' 6-5 victory over Chicago in an American League game. The Yankees had beaten the White Sox nine previous times without a defeat this season. In the only other A.L. contests, Los Angeles downed

WILLIE MAYS

Mays, Cepeda On N.L. All-Star Team

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Wonderful Willie Mays attracted the most votes as the San Francisco Giants and St. Louis Cardinals each placed two men on the National League All-Star team's starting line-up for the July 7 dream game with the American League at Shea Stadium in New York.

Mays, the Giants' brilliant center fielder, along with third baseman Ken Boyer and shortstop Dick Groat, were the only repeaters from 1963 in the voting of 270 players, coaches and managers. First baseman Orlando Cepeda was the other Giant selection on this year's starting team.

Commissioner Ford Frick, whose office conducted the balloting, said the complete squads, exclusive of the pitchers, will be announced next week.

The pitchers, who are selected by the All Star managers, Al Lopez of the American League and Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will be announced Thursday, July 2.

Surprisingly, the National League starting line-up will not contain a single member of the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies, who did not place a man even on the runner-up list.

In addition to the four Giants and Cards, there were single representatives from the Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates, Milwaukee Braves and New York Mets.

The N.L.'s power-packed line-up included Ron Hunt of the Mets at second base, Roberto Clemente of the Pirates in right field, league leading hitter Billy Williams of the Cubs in left, and the Braves' Joe Torre behind the plate.

In all, little fault can be found with the starting squad. The only possible objection would be over the by-passing of Maury Wills of the Dodgers whose .285 batting average through last Sunday is the highest among the shortstops. Wills finished third in the voting.

Mays, who boasts a .417 batting average in the 14 All-Star games, missed by one getting an unanimous vote. He received 240 out of a possible 241 votes. Players are not permitted to vote for teammates. Curt Flood of the Cards, was runner-up with 17 votes.

Here are the National League starting selections and runners-up, exclusive of pitchers:

The voting, only first two were announced:

Catcher — Torre, Milwaukee, 203; Edwards, Cincinnati, 24.

First base—Cepeda, San Francisco, 172; White, St. Louis, 75.

Second base—Hunt, New York, 172; Mazeroski, Pittsburgh, 52.

Third base — Boyer, St. Louis, 172; Santo, Chicago, 84.

Shortstop—Groat, St. Louis, 92; Cardenas, Cincinnati, 87.

Left field — William, Chicago, 237; Stargell, Pittsburgh, 17.

Center field—Mays, San Francisco, 240; Flood, St. Louis, 17.

Right field — Clemente, Pittsburgh, 160; Aaron, Milwaukee, 67.

The Mad, Mad World Of Ken Venturi

NEW YORK (AP) — The trans-Atlantic telephone cable hummed yesterday for Ken Venturi, the new American Open golf champion — but it didn't do any good.

The Austere Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews refused to budge. Venturi can't play in the British Open July 8-10 at St. Andrews.

He didn't get his entry filed in time, and the Royal and Ancient let it be known — with regrets — that it plays no favorites.

"I telephoned the Royal and Ancient and told them of Ken's desire to play," said Joseph C. Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Association. "They were very nice. They didn't say 'no' immediately.

"They apparently discussed it, then they called back and said they were unable to accept his entry. Entries closed May 31."

Of course, when they were taking applications for the 104-year-old grandpappy of tournaments, Venturi had no idea that he might want to play.

In the throes of an extended slump, he probably would have found it hard to pay expenses. But winning the U.S. Open last weekend in Washington changed things.

LOVE TO PLAY

"I'd love to play," Venturi said, "but I understand — rules are rules."

The U.S. Golf Association gives an automatic pass to the British champion in the American tournament. The British don't reciprocate.

Venturi and his pretty wife, Conni, left today for Cleveland and his next start, the Cleveland Open this weekend. Both were still reeling from the events of the last few days — the dramatic, come-from-behind victory in the sweltering Washington heat and the mad merry-go-round aftermath.

JUST WONDERFUL

"We've hardly had time to catch our breath," Conni said as she and her famous husband whisked to another of a series of Manhattan receptions. "We got to New York Sunday afternoon—and the telephone hasn't stopped ringing.

"But we love it. It's just wonderful."

HAPPINESS—Ken and Conni Venturi exude happiness after the San Francisco golfer won the U.S. Open title Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

A couple of weeks ago Venturi had to beg to get an invitation to play in a tournament, the Thunderbird Classic at Rye, N.Y.

Now he is besieged with all sorts of offers. He's wanted on television. People want to write his life story. They are after him for exhibitions. He is sought for endorsements.

SIDE BENEFITS

They say winning the Open is worth $100,000 in side benefits during the first year.

It hasn't always been this way. Eight years ago Venturi, now 33, was acclaimed golf's most promising prospect and the probable successor to Ben Hogan. But he blew the Masters in 1956 after taking a big lead through the first three rounds. Frustration, failure and injury followed.

Then the tide suddenly turned — with the Open. But it wasn't easy.

"I was so hot and dehydrated out there, I didn't think I'd make it," the new champion recalled during one of his several New York interviews.

TREMBLING HANDS

"I leaned over the ball and water dropped as if it came out of a spigot. My hands were trembling. I wondered whether I could bring back the club." Venturi hung on, playing rounds of 66 and 70 while Tommy Jacobs, Arnold Palmer and others faltered.

Venturi said he didn't even look at the scoreboard during the afternoon round and never asked how the others were doing lest it would disrupt his plan to play the course.

The San Francisco professional's son said he got his greatest thrill as he strode down the fairway on the 18th and finishing hole.

"As I walked the people on the hillsides rose to their feet. It was as if a flag was going by," he said, "and there was applause — like thunder.

"I knew if I made that last putt, I had it. I made it and I turned to Ray Floyd, who was playing with me. Tears were streaming down Ray's face. Then they started coming down my own.

"I said, 'My God, I've won.' I could hardly believe it."

Salmon Trolling Good To Great; Scribe Reveals Pair Of Recipes

STEVENS

Because I have two inquiries that need answering, I propose to pass along the fishing news very briefly.

First, a look-see at the status quo of salmon trolling in ocean waters. It remains good to excellent depending upon the locale worked. On Friday, the Sea Horse boated 23 salmon to 15 pounds southwest of the Light Ship. The Whirlaway unloaded 9 to 18 pounds southwest of the Light Ship, the Privateer No. 2, 23 to 18½ pounds, E.SE of the Light Ship.

ON SATURDAY the Lucky Day No. 2 came in with 20 salmon to 21 pounds S.W. of the Light Ship, the Sea Bee took 14 in the same area to 31 pounds. On Saturday the Lucky Day tried south of the Gate, off Montara, and netted 9 to 14 pounds.

Bass fishing was confined to trolling, mainly in the late hours of the day and mainly at or near the Carquinez Bridge. Results were a bit lower than last week. Best bet seems to have been the Dowrelio No. 6 which came in with 10 bass to 10 pounds. Bait fishing on both sides of the bay was just plain poor. Only catfish are taking the bait in the back country, and that's a summary of the local action.

NOW TO the answer part of today's column. James M. Killen of Mill Valley writes: "Can you find me a recipe for putting up a batch of pickled herring. During the fall run in Richardson Bay, I filled a 5-gallon can with herring and tried to pickle them. First batch came out too soft, and second batch were to tough. I tried everything I knew or heard, but nothing came out right. I'll appreciate any information you can get for me on this subject."

Okay—Try this: Cut off heads and tails of fish. Clean thoroughly. Place in stone crock to soak in salt water overnight (Add cupful of salt to water which covers fish). Next morning wipe crock clean, place layer of fish on bottom, sprinkle with pepper and cover with thin layer of salt. Continue until crock is nearly filled with alternate layers of fish and seasoning. Then pour some good, but not too strong, cider vinegar into crock until fish are covered. Bake in slow oven 8 to 10 hours. Set away and allow three to six days before eating.

SECOND LAMENT from a reader who wishes her name withheld. Her trouble was abalone frying. "Wasted three entire abalone. Pounded the slices lightly, fairly hard, and almost mashed them—fried 'em fast and slow and in between, but never was able to enjoy eating a single steak."

I know what the good lady went through. My first experience was similar. I suggest she and all who have had the same tragic luck, bake the abalone whole. Pound the whole animal just enough to break the muscles . . . trim off hard edges and scrape off the inky stuff.

NOW ADD kernel of garlic and a half medium onion (chopped) to the abalone; place in frying pan and fry in butter or olive oil until well browned. Remove from top of stove and place in oven to simmer for 15 minutes. Salt and pepper to taste then pour over abalone one glass of white wine mixed with one can of tomato sauce. Then bake for 45 minutes in medium oven. Slice to serve. I guarantee the entire abalone will be ultra tender and extremely tasty. In fact, it's delicious!

So, with a sincere wish for more and better fishing news on Thursday, I say, Chow!

Bolero Continues Lead To Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—Bolero, the 73-foot yawl which holds the course record, held the lead yesterday over 142 other yachts in the 635-mile Newport-to-Bermuda ocean race, according to reports reaching here.

A spotter plane of the U.S. Coast Guard reported yesterday, that the Bolero, under charter to Tim Moseley of San Carlos, Calif., was about 175 miles from Bermuda.

The jawl, sailing at almost 10 knots, was approximately 20 miles ahead of the Petrel, the 70-foot yawl of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. About another 15 miles back of the Petrel was the defending champion Nina, DeCoursey Fales' 59-foot schooner out of New York.

Official observers feel that an indicated slackening of winds between Bolero and Bermuda will prevent any possibility of a new record and that the first boat should cross the line at the end of this resort island in the early evening hours today.

Bolero set the record of 70 hours, 11 minutes, 40 seconds in 1956.

Current estimates of the overall winner here put either the Class B Magic Carpet, a 56-foot yawl owned by Frank Hardy of Queenstown, Md., or the Class C Chee Chee V, a 46-foot sloop owned by Philip Handleman of New York, among the favorites.

Magic Carpet was about 45 miles behind the Bolero but has a handicap of almost 15 hours. Chee Chee, close behind Magic Carpet, has a handicap of almost 23 hours.

The plane spotter said the three top Class A boats, Dyna, Royono and the scratch boat Stormvogel, were not sighted. Stormvogel, a 73-foot ketch owned by Cornelius Bruyzeel of South Africa, was one of the leaders Sunday.

Dyna, a 58-foot yawl owned by Clayton Ewing, won the Class A title in 1960. Royono is an entry of the U.S. Naval Academy.

A PERFECTO BY MARIN SOFTBALLER

Earl Loew, who like good wine seems to get better with age, reached perfection last night as he hurled a perfect game in leading Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo to a 9-0 rout over Stevenson Co. in the Santa Rosa "A" Softball League.

In retiring all 21 batters in order, Loew was seldom behind on the count and was saved only once when Jay Leatherwood made a running grab of a short pop fly in right field in the second inning.

The talented righthander struck out ten and allowed only two balls to be hit out of the infield.

The seven perfect innings also ran Loew's string of consecutive frames without allowing an earned run to 33.

Dave Hughes gave Loew all the runs he was to need with a third-inning two-run homer. Jens Munyon also homered.

Yankees Defeat Sox—Again!

Washington 5-2 and Cleveland and Minnesota battled to an 8-8 tie in a game ended by rain in the 11th inning.

San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 6-2 in the other National League game.

Milwaukee led 5-3 until the Dodgers rallied for six runs in the seventh inning. Wally Moon ignited the burst with a pinch double and Dick Tracewski ended it with a two-run single. Tracewski singled in two other runs, the one in the ninth proving to be the winning tally.

Lee Maye, Joe Torre and Gene Oliver clouted two-run homers for the Braves while Hank Aaron and Denis Menke hit solo blasts.

The Yankees survived Chicago's three-run surge in the ninth for their fifth consecutive triumph. Steve Hamilton scattered six hits through eight innings. Hal Reniff started the ninth, and the White Sox quickly loaded the bases and scored one run.

Bill Stafford replaced Reniff and retired the side, although two more runs scored on force plays. Hamilton scored New York's last run in the eighth on Roger Maris' sacrifice fly.

DAZZLING PERFORMANCE

U.S. Water Ski Captain Dominates Novato Meet

Chuck Stearns of Bellflower, Los Angeles County, captain of the United States World champion water ski team in France last year, and 14-year-old Sharon Urner of Novato gave dazzling performances at the second annual Western Experts Water Ski Championships over the weekend in Novato.

The competition was held at the Mira Monte Marina and attracted 60 of the top skiers on the west coast.

In the trick portion of the meet, he scored a total of 3,077 points, the most he has ever scored before.

Sharon, competing with a combined division of girls, women and senior women, took overall honors by winning the jump event (84 feet) and the slalom and coming in second in tricks.

Bee Wineman, director of the Masters Water Ski School at the marina, predicted big things for Sharon, saying: "She has a good chance of becoming a national champion."

Bee, by the way, jumped 58 feet to tie the western regional record in the senior women's division.

A New Job For Jackie Jensen

NORTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — Former football and baseball star Jackie Jensen has been elected president of the operating group for the Ponderosa golf course at the north end of Lake Tahoe.

MARIN'S FUTURE

Sausalito Asked To Look To North

Sausalito should look to the north.

The city's future and that of all Marin lies in that direction and not the south or east.

The 69 per cent of the people, Sausalito commuters, who go south and east to sell their services "may well go north to sell their services."

These words are those of Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael, who last night addressed the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce at its annual installation dinner at the Alta Mira Hotel.

Enemark, executive vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., spoke on "Marin County As I See It—Present and Future."

He said Sausalito is richer by 10 per cent than other Marin cities. It has the highest level of education, the average person in Sausalito having 13.7 years of school while other cities average 12.5 per cent, he reported.

The average person in Sausalito is 6½ years older than persons elsewhere in the county, he said.

"A very significant thing," he added, "is you have nearly twice as many commuters as the average in Marin—69 per cent of the wage earners leave for earnings elsewhere as against 39 per cent elsewhere in the county."

Enemark forecast Sausalito's future as residential, resort, tourist and water-oriented.

"Sausalito should be what it is," he continued, "and not try to be like San Rafael nor a branch of San Francisco. . . .

"Look to the north," Enemark said. "I am convinced that the future of this community and all Marin lies to the north and not to the south or east. I dub this little area as the golden triangle. The gateway is right here. The northern extremity is Santa Rosa and the other is Vallejo."

A. Leonard Bjorklund, re-elected president of the chamber, welcomed dinner guests. He asked the chamber for continued support for a public landing downtown where cruise boats could discharge 500 passengers a day and from which people from Novato and San Rafael could leave to go to San Francisco and back. Secondly, he asked support for a downtown tourist center to be opened in the bus depot in the next few days.

Halsey Lyon, first vice president and master of ceremonies, said Sausalito sales tax last year totaled $156,000 and parking meter money $45,000, which he said means more to the city than all of the property tax, a sum of $184,000.

Installed were Bjorklund; Lyon, William McDonnell, second vice president; Clifford C. Christison, secretary-treasurer, and directors Luther W. Conover, Russell H. Papenhausen, Gary Eastman, Trav Duro and Mrs. Marsha Owen.

New Group Is Forming To Aid Children

The problems and training of neurologically handicapped children will be discussed at an organizational meeting of the Marin County Chapter, California Assn. for Neurologically Handicapped Children, 8 p.m. Thursday at Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael.

"More than 1,700 school aged children in Marin County alone may suffer from a serious neurological handicap," according to Robert K. Bell of San Rafael, acting county chairman for the association.

Guest speaker at the public meeting will be Violet Sprainge, educational psychologist from the Schools for Cerebral Palsy Children and Related Brain Disorders in San Francisco.

County Licenses For Dogs $4

Residents of unincorporated areas of Marin County will have to pay $4 for a dog license this year, but residents of cities will pay only $3.

County Administrator Alan Bruce told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that the county ordinance, which has been accepted by the cities for a unified control system, cannot be applied as written in the cities, because of an obscure state law.

The state law allows city dog tag fees to reach a maximum of $3 for males and spayed females and $5 for unspayed females, but does not allow a $4 charge. The law, however, applies only in cities.

Construction Is Granted Sunny Hills

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night granted Sunny Hills permission to reconstruct its facilities on its property off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Consideration of the request by the Bay Counties Realty Corp. to subdivide property fronting on Canyon Road and Scenic and Allyn Avenues was postponed until July 20 because the company's engineer was not present at the hearing.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

1. Granted Harry Broglioli permission to use his property at 100 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for a trailer rental service.
2. Granted Norman T. Gilroy a use permit to build 47 apartments on his Red Hill property.
3. Granted Mrs. G. E. Russell permission to split a lot at 300 Laurel Avenue.

IN CONTAINERS

Mosk Is Troubled Over Lack Of Nuts

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the big concerns of the attorney general's office these days is nuts.

Stanley Mosk, the state's gumshoe chief, apparently has been haunting the grocery stores weighing packages of nut meat products, and finding them wanting.

Two state agencies, Mosk's office and the Division of Weights and Measures, have concluded an extensive investigation "into the failure of nut meat producers to properly fill their containers in compliance with California law," the attorney general declared.

Apparently the State Consumer Council, Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, who recently exposed watered hams, isn't in on the nut deal, as she is not mentioned in the dispatches from Mosk's office.

Mosk has sought to correct the nut situation since Sept. 26, 1963, when he called the nut meat producing companies together to discuss slack-filled containers. During the ensuing nine months, specific plans for revising the containers have been presented, but there is no indication the public will get more nuts for its money.

The attorney general now issues warning as follows:

"Effective Sept. 1, 1964, the Bureau of Weights and Measures and this office will institute whatever action is necessary to eliminate from the shelves of California markets containers of nut meat products that violate California laws against slack fill."

12-Story Building On Board Agenda

Retirement residences and convalescent homes will occupy the Marin Hospital District Board at its meeting today at 8 p.m.

The board has been requested by John D. Carew of Greenbrae to go on record against the proposed 12-story retirement residence off Via Holon.

Attorney William D. Corrigan has written the board asking that it consider leasing part of the district's property for a convalescent hospital to be established by James Moore and Eugene Aureguy, who developed the Center Medical Convalescent Hosptial in Kentfield.

Fair Housing Boosters Plan Saturday Meeting

Marin members of Californians for Fair Housing will hold an information meeting at 9:30 a.m. Saturday concerning its efforts to defeat the proposed amendment to the state constitution forbidding the legislature to deal with discrimination in housing (the anti-Rumford Act initiative).

The public meeting will be held at the group's Marin headquarters at 240 Redwood Highway, Sausalito (the Commodore Helicopter location). Rodney Larson, northern California representative of the statewide group, will conduct the conclave.

School Budget Session

Sausalito School District trustees will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. to discuss the 1964-65 budget and the hiring of a mathematics teacher for Richardson Bay School.

Bond Issue Date

A resolution setting Sept. 15 as the date for a $476,000 bond issue for 15 new classrooms will be considered for adoption by the Larkspur School Board at its meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the district offices.

An average of 69,700 public school classrooms have been built every year for the past five, according to the U.S. Office of Education.

ALL AROUND THE CAR

IN A WAY, WE'RE WATCHING YOUR WIFE PULL INTO A PARKING SPACE. We're duplicating what she does—in the laboratory, with a Pontiac and a device that grips the steering wheel, turns it, and lets a computer know how much effort it took.

Another way we test steering is to have drivers take cars out on the skid pad through a path of zigzag yellow lines, while instruments record the effort.

Why do we do testing like this? Because it takes all kinds of testing to really prove a car. Plenty of testing and re-testing of every part to know how a car will ride, respond, handle and hold up for you and your family. That's what we mean by "proved all around."

At our Michigan and Arizona Proving Grounds, at Pikes Peak, and on the nation's roads and highways, we test GM cars the GM way—the long way, the hard way, the right way—on the world's truest proving grounds. Before they go into production. To make a GM car so likely to be worth more to you. # Volunteers From 23 Groups Will Serve At Concessions For Fair

The 19th version of the Marin Art and Garden Fair with the theme, "In the Medieval Manner" has hundreds of committee members meeting to plan their organization's part.

Volunteer groups, which are founders and affiliates of the Marin Art and Garden Center, where the fair is held, are the keystone of the fair concessions.

THE VOLUNTEERS are members of service clubs, churches, youth organizations, business clubs and cultural associations.

There are 23 organizations which will run concessions July 1 through July 5, most offering food for the expected 45,000 fairgoers.

The Ross Valley Players will again operate the restaurant with its fried chicken dinner. The profits from sales helps the Players accumulate the rental fee for the Barn, where their plays are given, and pay a percentage to the fair for operating expenses.

THE BUSINESS and Professional Women's Club of Marin will make cookies, candied apples and cotton candy, while the Business and Professional Club from Novato will offer sno-cones, doughnuts and watermelon.

Peanut brittle will be sold by members of the Camp Fire Girls, while Job's Daughters, Bethels 48 and 246 will sell ice cream cones, frozen bananas, fruit bars and home made cake.

The Decorations Guild of the center has gathered plant material and designed artistic arrangements to be sold in their booth.

Daughters of the American Revolution will sell American flags.

Another member of the center, the Marin Junior Theatre, Art and Garden Unit, has made sun hats, parasols and a variety of costume items. Rock hounds will never leave the Marin Mineral Society's booth as year after year its members increase its rare collection.

THE NORTHGATE Group, members of the center since 1947, will staff their Antique Shop.

Rainbow Girls, San Rafael Assembly, will serve tacos, chili and coffee. Fruit juice will be sold by the Soroptimist Club of Marin.

ZONTA INTERNATIONAL will be represented with balloons and toys for the very young, and Ross Valley 4 H Club will fill small hands with peanuts, popcorn and candy corn.

Hot dogs, soft drinks and coffee will be sold by two concessionaires, the Church of Christ and the Reserve Officers Assn.

For a bit of holiday fun the Corte-Madera-Larkspur Chamber of Commerce has devised a dunking game.

The Tamalpais Weavers Guild will display hand woven articles.

THE OLDEST and the largest group of the center is the Marin Society of Artists. Their demonstrations of art in action will involve ceramics, jewelry making, painting, sketching and weaving. On the tree-shaded barbecue pavilion outside the Frances Young Gallery, artist volunteers will serve sandwiches, hot and cold drinks and desserts.

The Ross Hospital Volunteer Service will sell programs.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

A nice doctor I know told me recently: "Of course baby care is a serious business but sometimes mothers take it too seriously. As a consequence, they often develop a kind of grim tenseness which is easily transmitted to a baby and the baby may develop a corresponding tenseness. The mothers who laugh with their babies, and at themselves occasionally, are the most successful ones."

•

Points to remember: Grim determination to see that baby "licks the platter clean" may turn a naturally eager eater into a mealtime rebel. Food served with a smile usually gets a good reception.

•

There'll be baby-smiles to spare when the menu features a Gerber Strained or Junior High Meat Dinner. For these hearty dishes have 3 times as much succulent meat as regular combination dinners. Add to this extra meat, garden-good vegetables and subtle seasoning and you have "casserole dishes" with exceptional flavor character. P.S. Apart from the eating pleasure your baby will have, Gerber High Meat Dinners are a good source of protein . . . the mighty "helping hand" of growth.

* All the above in both strained and junior versions.

•

Strengthening influences. Overall buttons will stay put longer if you sew them on with elastic thread. Sweater buttons will be more secure if you reinforce thread at center of buttons with clear nail polish.

•

Start to finish. Don't forget that baby cereals provide special nutritional benefits right through the toddler stage. Gerber Cereals are fortified with a special kind of iron, easily assimilated by babies, plus calcium and important B-vitamins. All 5 are delightfully delicate in flavor. Today is Tuesday, June 23, the 175th day of 1964 with 191 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1836, the U. S. Treasury divided a surplus of more than 28 million dollars among 26 states.

In 1931 Wiley Post and Harold Gatty took off for a 'round-the-world plane flight which lasted eight days, 16 hours.

In 1938, Congress created the Civil Aeronautics Authority to regulate air traffic.

In 1947, the House overrode President Harry Truman's veto and enacted the Labor Management Act, known as the Taft-Hartley law.

A thought for the day —Irvin Cobb wrote: "Lay my ashes at the roots of a dogwood tree in Paducah at the proper planting seasons. Should the tree live, that will be monument enough for me."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Reverse Ruffing Rule To Prevent Over-Ruff In Game

When you want to ruff two or more cards in dummy, your general procedure is to begin by ruffing low and end by ruffing with a high trump.

The theory is that the early ruff is not likely to be overruffed, so that dummy's low trump is good enough for the job. Sometimes you must work on the opposite tack.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West opens the queen of hearts and continues the suit. You ruff the third heart and see that the contract is cold if you can ruff two diamonds in dummy.

LOSE TRICK

You are willing to lose one trick to the jack of spades, provided that you can go through with your ruffing plan.

If you are hasty about it, you will immediately cash the top diamonds and ruff a low diamond with dummy's eight of trumps. That is the end of your game.

East over-ruffs with the jack of spades and returns a trump. That removes dummy's last trump, so that you must eventually lose a diamond trick to West.

SAFER METHOD

There is a safer way to play the hand. After ruffing the third heart, cash dummy's ace of clubs and the high diamonds. Then lead a diamond from your hand and ruff in dummy with the king of spades.

This cannot be over-ruffed, and you can later ruff your other diamond with the eight of spades.

You don't care about being over-ruffed later, since only the jack of spades can do so and you are willing to lose that trick.

SPADE KING

In fact, after you have ruffed a diamond with dummy's king of spades, ruff a club in your hand with the ace of spades.

This protects you against any unusual distribution of the clubs. You cannot be over-ruffed.

Now you are in position to lead your last diamond and ruff in dummy. Game and rubber are assured.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade.

You have 10 points in high cards, 2 points for the singleton and 1 point for the doubleton. You are happy to bid this 13-point hand (an optional opening bid) since you have a fine major suit and good high-card structure.

Question Is, Did The Angler Eat His Catch?

EUREKA, Kan. (AP)—Bill Lewis of Eureka caught a catfish that must have thought he'd found the granddaddy of all worms.

The fish had swallowed a 30-inch long water moccasin and still was hungry enough to take Lewis' bait and get itself caught.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Single-Auto Accidents Killing More Victims In Recent Years

VAN DELLEN

The deadly one-car crash is on the rise in many parts of the country. In Chicago, the problem is especially serious because deaths of this type increased 58 per cent in four years in contrast to 18 per cent in other accidents. Traffic experts are concerned mainly with the death of a driver who hits a fixed object such as a pole, tree, or house.

The Chicago Traffic Safety Review collected pictures of many of these casualties. In one instance, a car swerved off a well lighted straight stretch of road and hit a pole, killing the driver. Authorities ask, why? A woman was driving to work at 5:50 a.m. She ran over the sidewalk and knocked down a concrete water tank in a parking lot where she made a complete circle. The auto continued on its way, vaulted the sidewalk again, crossed the street and came to a stop against a wooden utility pole at the end of another parking lot. The police could not account for this fatal accident.

MANY MORE examples were given and traffic authorities and the police are demanding autopsy studies when death occurs immediately or within a few hours after the collision. So far, a high proportion of the drivers had been drinking. Is this the answer?

There is no doubt that a man can be so tired he dozes and runs off the road. He may do the same when intoxicated as well as tired or really drunk. In this state, he will not go far without denting a fender or sideswiping another car.

A PSYCHOPATHIC personality, especially a teen-ager, might get extremely cocky after imbibing and lose control. An epileptic may develop a convulsion when driving alone; he twists and turns the steering wheel while unconscious and steps on the accelerator when the legs stiffen during the clonic stage of the attack. People also use cars to commit suicide, more so when fortified with liquor. Some individuals have a heart attack or stroke and die before the smashup.

In my opinion, these are the conditions that must be investigated. All too often, accurate information is difficult to obtain because the victim is well protected by the family.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HYSTERECTOMY AND HEART

W. E. D. writes: Are heart attacks more frequent in women after a hysterectomy than after other types of surgery?

REPLY

No. There is no relationship between the two. The supply of estrogens usually protects women from hardening of the arteries. But this advantage is lost if the ovaries are removed as well as after the menopause.

ARM HAIR

N.P. writes: My 14-year-old daughter fell and broke an arm. When the cast was removed eight weeks later, there was a growth of long black hair on that arm. Do you think shaving before the fracture was set is responsible?

REPLY

No. Because of the cast, the hair was protected from friction. Undoubtedly, by now, it has been replaced by a normal growth.

New Findings Show Babies Able To See After Birth

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (AP)—Upon leaving the womb and entering this world the human being is able to see things with reasonable clarity and to follow moving objects with its eyes almost as accurately as the adult does.

This is a new scientific finding which reverses the view generally held by physiologists and other experts that the human infant sees very poorly at birth and doesn't see at all well for several years.

Nor is it a triviality, since it strikes at the roots of a continuing controversy in the most personal of all scientific studies from the human viewpoint, that being "the study of man."

Advanced Freudian theory holds the mental destinies of the human being are being settled during the first few months after its birth, by how its mind interprets the impressions it gets of the environment by what it sees —and also, of course, by what it hears and feels.

This theory is derived from the analysis of adult minds. According to the analysts who theorize thus, the formation of mind-patterns, which govern the individual throughout his life can be traced to the first months of his independent existence.

The more orthodox Freudians do not accept the theory even though it is extensively documented. Many anatomists and physiologists reject it flatly, some contemptuously, on the grounds that the human infant is still an embryo at birth and for months lacks the physical capacities, including good vision, to form mental impressions of its mother and other

Boyd Museum Will Purchase Planetarium

A Spitz Planetarium will be purchased by the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael for one-fifth of its worth, it was announced today by Mrs. Clara Evans, education director.

The owner, Mrs. Douglas M. Kelly of El Cerrito, offered to sell the $2,500 worth of equipment to the museum in memory of her late husband, a former member of the University of California faculty.

The planetarium will be set up in the museum's auditorium where summer astronomy classes for teenagers will be held from 10 to 11 a.m. Saturdays from July 18 to August 21, Mrs. Evans said.

"We hope to have a dome built later so that the image will not be distorted, but the ceiling of the auditorium will be satisfactory for study of the constellations," she said.

"The offer of the equipment was too good to refuse even though no money has been budgeted for the purchase. We are hoping that contributions will be made to cover the cost of the planetarium."

She said that the museum hopes to be able to offer training in navigation by the stars to groups such as the Sea Scouts after money has been raised to construct necessary facilities.

MARIN CADET GETS JET BRIEFING

The only Marin County Cadet among the 700 Air Force Ccademy Cadets now visiting Hamilton Air Force Base is John M. Carney Jr. of 1021 Las Raposas Road, Terra Linda. Here Capt. Lou Adams of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron briefs him prior to a flight. Many of the cadets made an F-101 flight as part of their field trip to Hamilton.

Youth Program Exams Planned

Qualification examination for employment as a youth adviser or counselor aide in the youth program of President Lyndon B. Johnson's anti-poverty campaign will be administered at 9 a.m. Saturday at the State Employment Service Office, 805 E Street, San Rafael.

Applicants for counselor aide positions must be college graduates. Youth advisers will not be required to have training beyond the high school level.

Several hundred aides and advisers will be needed to work primarily in depressed metropolitan areas of the state to counsel poorly trained, poverty-stricken young people, he said. Starting salaries are from $4,200 to $7,500.

Budget Tops List Tonight For Hub City

The San Anselmo City Council will give further study to the city's tentative $873,404 budget for 1964-65 at 8 p.m. today at city hall.

The council has included $12,000 in the budget for a new street sweeper, but has asked City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt to investigate the possibility of buying one from federal surplus.

The council also has asked Flautt to make a survey of the salaries of non-safety employees in comparison with other cities.

Last Thursday the council gave police and firemen a five per cent pay raise, but did not grant a raise to other city employees.

Other items on the agenda are the amendments to the city's garbage ordinance, purchase of police cars, and the Del May Improvement District.

The program will be directed by Leland Spencer with Constance Lewis and Susan Lafferty assisting.

Marinite Sparks Pierre Backing

Hans Schiller of Mill Valley pleaded for greater emphasis by the California Democratic Council on the study and development of issues, at a meeting of CDC directors in Fresno this past weekend.

Schiller, CDC director from the first congressional district, also proposed that a CDC committee study the organization's future direction. The study, originally suggested by Rep. James Roosevelt, was approved by the board.

As vice chairman of the resolutions committee, Schiller introduced the resolution declaring CDC support of Pierre Salinger, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate.

Window Display Wins In Contest

Sausalito artist Enid Foster has won a $200 first prize in the James Baldwin window display contest for her recent display at the Tides Bookshop, 749 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Miss Foster, who lives at the Del Monte Hotel, placed first in category one which, she said, she believes is for competition among window displays in small towns. Other categories are for large and middle sized towns.

She used a life-size paper doll of Negro author James Baldwin surrounded by books he has written. The doll was made so that it could be changed in position each week to sitting, lying and standing positions.

Innocent Plea Made To Embezzling Charge

A plea of innocent to alleged embezzling of $16,000 in money and merchandise from the Black Market in San Anselmo was entered yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by Farrell Eugene (Gene) Kissinger, 38-year-old former manager of the store. Preliminary hearing was scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday.

Kissinger is accused of taking the items between November of 1963 and last May 21, when his employment at the store at 60 Redhill Avenue was terminated. He is being held in Marin County jail in lieu of $5,500 bail.
